Reduced School Tax Rate Predicted

SEE SAVING OF 9 CENTS

A reduction of nine cents in the Santa Ana school tax rate for next year was anticipated as the Santa Ana board of education last night adopted the 1938-39 total budget, and its district divisions. The total, including interest and sinking funds, is $983,913.

Exclusive of the interest and sinking fund, the next year's budget is $903,068, an increase of $19,518 over this year's budget of $883,550, or about 2.2 per cent. However, the increase in attendance is about 5 per cent, which increases average daily attendance receipts from the state sufficiently to permit an estimated reduction in the local tax rate as stated.

Hearing Slated

The budget adoption will not become final until after the public hearing August 1. While the total amount now is fixed, segregations and itemizations within that limit have not yet been completed, according to School Auditor Harold Yost.

The increase in the operating budget is partially due, said Yost, to salary increases amounting to between $9000 and $10,000 for certificated employees and about $3200 for non-certificated employees; also to needed repairs to buildings which have long been deferred.

Anticipate New Rate

The anticipated new school rate will be $1.32, exclusive of interest and sinking rate, as compared to $1.41 this year. This year's total rate, with interest and sinking fund provided, was $2.17. If the interest and sinking rate remains the same, the new total rate would be $2.08.

The new junior college budget total is estimated at $176,506, with anticipated revenues of $128,876, leaving $47,630 estimated to be raised by tax levy, requiring a rate of 19 cents, the same as this year.

High School Budget

The high school budget will be $439,113, with anticipated revenues of $285,416, leaving $153,697 to be raised by tax levy, requiring a rate of 61 cents. The elementary budget is $368,299, with anticipated revenues of $246,700, leaving $121,599 to be raised by tax levy, requiring a rate of 52 cents.

The budget adopted last night proposes $867,818 for operating expenses, $12,560 for capital outlay, $20,000 contingent reserve and $3000 general reserve. Recent additions include $3000 for repair of Lathrop school showers, $500 for Lathrop auditorium extras, and $2500 to cover such items as transportation of pupils and salary of a coordinator for the apprentice classes.

City P. T. A. leaders visited the board last night and urged an appropriation for transportation of students to out-of-town school events, not only to relieve teachers and parents of responsibility for such transportation, but to insure the privilege for some students unable to provide their own way of travel. Mrs. James K. Givens, president of the city council of P. T. A., Mrs. F. H. Mitchell, immediate past president, Mrs. William Stauffer and Mrs. Paul Eby appeared before the board.

PROPOSES FLOOD BILL

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(UP)—Rep. Bertrand W. Gearhart, R., Calif., has introduced a bill to authorize the bureau of reclamation to build a $250,000 flood control and irrigation dam on Kings river, on the Fresno-Tulare county line in California.

Gearhart said the bill had no chance of passage this session, but predicted action next year.

VICTIMS OF AIR TRAGEDY ARE TAKEN FROM PLANE WRECKAGE

WAWONA, Calif., June 14.—(UP)—Nine broken bodies taken from the wreckage of a Transcontinental & Western Airways airliner on the snowy crest of Buena Vista peak, 18 miles east, were brought here today by forest rangers.

The small searching party re-wreckage "on a hunch," led a turned with the bodies after a day and nightlong trek across Sierra Nevada snow fields to the remote mountain area where the airliner crashed on the night of March 1.

The plane apparently smashed against the mountain top while Pilot John D. Graves was attempting a steep climb. Three pine trees were sheared below the wreckage. The short trees were in ascending positions, indicating the wings of the plane were at a sharp upward angle when they tore off the branches and trunks.

The bodies were placed aboard CCC trucks and started for Fresno where they were to be turned over to the coroner's office.

Wages Bill Is Approved

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(UP)—The 75th Congress moved a step nearer adjournment today when the House approved and sent to the Senate for immediate action the compromise wage-hour conference report.

Senate approval, sending the measure to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature, was expected to follow later today.

Adjourn Soon

The house, driving toward adjournment Wednesday or Thursday, approved the compromise after brief debate and proceeded to consideration of the next major adjournment task—the conference report on the $3,753,000,000 (B) recovery bill.

TREE-SWEET BRINGS 20 FAMILIES HERE

Approximately 20 new families will be brought to Santa Ana to make their permanent home as the result of the consolidation of the executive, sales and accounting offices of the Tree-Sweet Products company, according to announcement made by officials of the company today.

The company formerly maintained offices in Los Angeles, but in order to facilitate closer cooperation between directional sales efforts and plant operation, the move to Santa Ana has been decided upon by company officials.

Records made available today show that the Tree-Sweet Company has made rapid growth since it was organized six years ago. It has constantly increased its production, until last year during the orange packing season, the plant worked two shifts daily and employed 400 workers with a monthly payroll of $36,000, reports show. The company regularly employs 100 persons.

Plant engineers are busy at the present time with the installation of the latest type of canning equipment, which, it is said, will greatly increase production. Tree-Sweet was one of the pioneers in canning orange juice.

Officials of the Tree-Sweet company point out that last year alone the company purchased more than 900 field boxes of oranges daily for use in packing orange juice alone.

After Army Bomber "Disintegrated," Killing Eight

The twisted heap of wreckage above, piled grotesquely in a field near Delavan, Ill., is all that remains of a giant, twin-motored army bomber after it "apparently disintegrated" in the air and plunged to earth, killing three officers and five enlisted men. Its right wing was sheared off as the ship crashed from an altitude of 500 feet and burned. Debris and bodies of the victims were scattered over a quarter of a mile. Partly opened parachutes found on some of the men indicated that they vainly tried to "bail out." The ship was bound from Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., to Denver.

CRITICS ANSWERED BY PRIME MINISTER

LONDON, June 14.—(UP)—The British government has considered various methods of retaliation for the bombing of British ships in Spanish waters, but is not prepared at present to embark on such measures, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons today in reply to nationwide assentment because of its failure to take drastic action.

"The government does not feel justified in recommending active participation which might result in spreading the conflict far beyond its present limits," Chamberlain said. "Therefore they repeat the warning to British shipping to en-

L. A. Concern Hit By NLRB Ruling

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(UP)—The National Labor Relations Board today ordered the Union Die Casting Co. of Los Angeles to disestablish an asserted company-dominated union, Udico Bargaining Union.

The order instructed the company to reinstate with back pay employees discharged on May 15, 1937, assertingly because of their affiliation with the United Automobile Workers, an affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Under the order, the company was instructed to post notices in its plant advising employees it will not interfere with union activities and that the company union has been disestablished.

CHARGES HURLED BY KYNETTE DEFENDER

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—(UP)—Defense Attorney Richard Cantillon today branded Harry Raymond, bomb victim, as a black-mailed who "ran Harry E. Munson, police commissioner" out of office.

Cantillon made the charges in his final argument in behalf of Earle Kynette, Fred Browne and Roy Allen, police officers, accused of the bombing.

The attorney discredited the prosecution's theory that the Raymond bombing grew out of action brought by Ralph Gray, old-time

New Pure Food Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(UP)—A bill creating a new pure food and drug act was sent to President Roosevelt for his signature today.

Congressional approval of the bill—given yesterday when the house adopted a conference report on it—ended a fight which began during the early days of the New Deal.

The present bill is a drastically revised version of the one written by former Undersecretary of Agriculture Rexford G. Tugwell, which was defeated by the 73rd Congress. It is designed to protect consumers against injurious foods and drugs and adds to the list of products regulated by the original food and drug act of 1906 cosmetics and therapeutic devices.

It was sponsored by Chairman Clarence D. Lea, D., Calif., of the House Interstate Commerce Committee, and Chairman Royal S. Copeland, D., N. Y., of the senate commerce committee.

Santa Anans Observe Flag Day

Scores of downtown merchants, school children and hundreds of patriotic Santa Ana citizens today joined in the celebration of the 161st anniversary of the adoption of the American flag, as the American Legion placed hundreds of flags on the city streets.

Flag Day ceremonies, to be presented by the Elks club at 8 p. m. today at the Elks clubrooms will be open to the public. It was announced today by C. M. Featherly, general committeeman in charge of the services.

Frank Drumm, Santa Ana attorney, will be the chief speaker of the evening.

S. P. Extortioner Is Found Insane

MARTINEZ, Calif., June 14.—(UP)—Accused of attempting to extort $10,000,000 from the Southern Pacific Railway, James W. Wilder, 75 year old Byron rancher, was found insane late yesterday and committed to the Stockton state hospital.

Two doctors appointed by Superior Judge Thomas Johnson reported that Wilder was not liable criminally for his acts.

Supervisors Okeh Dana Point Work

The county supervisors today approved formation of a sewer maintenance district covering a portion of Dana Point, after conducting a public hearing on the proposal. The project involves expenditure of about $2000, it was estimated.

The new district, covering the portion of Dana Point east of the Street of the Copper Lantern, was approved, including north-ly areas which S. H. Woodruff, of the Dana Point corporation, requested to be excluded. His request was denied.

District Attorney W. F. Menton advised formation of the sewer district to supplant the old Dana Point sanitary district, because the new district would confine itself solely to the question of sewage.

He recommended that the cost be covered by fees from ranch operators, suggesting a fee of $2 per month for ranches with less than 300 hogs, and a fee of $1 per hundred hogs, per month, for ranches with more than 300 hogs. Dr. Bowers reported that there are 17 hog ranches in the county feeding garbage to 26,000 hogs, and 27 ranches feeding grain to 2500 hogs.

Leave Of Absence

Constable W. O. Tremaine today was granted leave of absence from the state for 30 days, starting June 20.

Lease of the U. S. army engineers on quarters in the courthouse annex was renewed for another year, starting July 1.

The board appointed Ralph Kinney as life-guard, Kinney being the second of two additional lifeguards recently authorized.

Former "It" Girl Has 6-Pound Boy

HOLLYWOOD, June 14.—(UP)—Clara Bow, former madcap "It" girl of the films, today gave birth to a six pound, 11 ounce boy in Santa Monica hospital by Caesarian section.

The birth was sooner than was expected since the operation was not planned until June 20. Dr. Harry Blodgett, the attending physician, said both Miss Bow and the boy were in excellent condition.

Miss Bow's husband, Rex Bell, cowboy film star, was in Las Vegas, Nev., at the time the baby, the Bells' second child, was born. After she came out of the ether, Miss Bow talked to Bell by telephone and said:

"Oh, Rex, I'm so sorry it's a boy because I know you wanted a little girl."

Bell told her, she said, that he was "happy to have a little boy to play with our older, four-year-old son."

Dr. Kurtz Honored By Church Group

LAWRENCE, Kans., June 14.—(UP)—Dr. D. W. Kurtz, Lawrence, Cal., a former president of McPherson college, McPherson, Kans., was the new moderator today of the Church of the Brethren.

Dr. Kurtz was elected at the annual business meeting of the conference, which is being held on the University of Kansas campus.

Dr. Otto Winger, president of Manchester College, North Manchester, Ind., and W. Newton Long, Baltimore, were named members of the general mission board.

The conference closes today.

Flood Traps Japan Army

SHANGHAI, June 14.—(UP)—Chinese military dispatches asserted today that 5,000 Japanese troops had been drowned in Yellow river flood waters, that 7,000 more were trapped and that gigantic quantities of war munitions were inundated.

According to these dispatches, at least 5,000 Japanese were overwhelmed when the Paishah sector along the central front was buried under 30 feet of water.

It was asserted that 7,000 more were isolated at Kaifeng, provincial capital of Honan, and that their fate was unknown.

Kaifeng, the dispatches said, was under 20 feet of water and 250 field guns, 80 tanks and 100 armored cars were submerged.

According to authoritative sources on Capitol Hill, Charles Edward Stuart, above, is slated for the post of U. S. ambassador to Soviet Russia, succeeding Joseph E. Stuart, 57, was formerly head of the Export-Import bank, created in early days of the New Deal to facilitate trade with Russia, and since 1936 has been consulting engineer to the Soviet government on coal mining.

Rush Rescue Of Coal Bootlegger

ASHLAND, Pa., June 14.—(UP)—Three hundred feet underground in a makeshift mine, a "bootleg" anthracite miner and his 17-year-old son awaited rescue today after being entombed for more than 24 hours and given up as dead.

The miner, Peter Shinkowsky, 48, and his son, Peter, Jr., were trapped when timbering was knocked down yesterday in the crude mine—one of the "bootleg" holes which unemployed miners have dug on the property of companies in the anthracite district.

Tons of earth and rock crashed into the diggings. It was thought that the man and boy must have been killed. Hours later, Shinkowsky, Jr. shouted through the barrier that they were alive and unhurt.

Solons Pass New Civil Service Law

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(UP)—Congress today completed action and sent to the White House a bill broadening civil service to include first, second and third class postmasters.

The Senate approved the conference report, agreeing to the House provision for indeterminate terms of such postmasters and retiring from its own provision for eight year terms.

Under provisions of the measure the President would appoint such postmasters, and their appointments would be contingent upon Senate confirmation.

VANDALS RUIN LIGHT

OAKLAND, June 14.—(UP)—Vandals shattered a two million candlepower always beacon light on top of San Leandro hill with rifle fire, Bureau of Air Commerce employees reported today.

The light was damaged Sunday night, when one horse was killed and another wounded by snipers in the Oakland hills.

LEWIS LOSES BATTLE TO GET ACTION ON CONTRACTS BILL

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(UP)—John L. Lewis apparently lost his fight to obtain House action on far reaching amendments to the Walsh-Healey government contracts bill today when the House rules committee tabled a resolution to send the measure to the floor for a vote.

The rules committee action was tantamount to killing the measure for this session since without rules committee approval bills can not be brought up for a vote in the session-closing drive.

No Power Sites

In any event, Chairman Smith pointed out, the matter of water rights on the Santa Ana river probably would be of no interest to the federal government, because there are no water power sites on the river, and control of power sites was the only interest of the government, according to reports of the compromise agreement in Washington.

However, Smith suggested, since it was necessary to make any agreement apply generally to all subdivisions, in order to accommodate various communities that need flood control projects but lack resources to supply rights-of-way, as was required of Orange county, the agreement by which the government would refund local expenditures to the local communities probably would be available to Orange county.

Would Mean Refund

That would mean refund of the $1,445,000 bonds recently sold by the flood control district for purchasing dam sites, and for relocating Santa Ana canyon highway and the Santa Fe railroad, Smith estimated. Such relocation expenses are included in the refund agreement, Washington reports stated. It would mean, further, cancellation of the remainder of the $2,500,000 flood bond issue not yet sold. Whether the refunding, which would be retroactive to 1928, would include repayment of Orange county flood control district for engineering expenses in connection with the Bailey plan of 1929 and the Elliott plan of 1931, was a matter

Gold Demand In England Swells

LONDON, June 14.—(UP)—Demand for bar gold swelled to the largest volume in more than a year today, notwithstanding official denials that realignment of currencies under the tri-partite agreement is being considered.

Frantic buying from Bombay augmented further demand from continental hoarders and more than $8,000,000 of the metal was taken up in today's official open market session.

The takings exceeded the totals purchased in the frenzied gold movements occasioned by dollar devaluations rumors last autumn and by the Austrian crisis this year and brought to more than $20,000,000 the gold purchases since last Friday.

SALESMEN VICTIMS OF BUNKO 'ARTISTS'

A well-dressed 30-year-old Negro, bunco "artist" who committed two offenses against automobile sales concerns yesterday and others in Anaheim, was being sought by Santa Ana officers today.

R. C. Chapman, salesman for the George Dunton Ford agency, and Thomas Quinlan, salesman for the L. D. Coffing Dodge agency, were the victims, Chapman losing $4.75, Quinlan 20 cents.

Appears Prosperous
Going to Chapman, the Negro, wearing a neat, grey, double-breasted suit, light hat, and appearing prosperous, said he wanted to buy a car. He asked the price, amount of down payment, monthly payment.

Then he asked the salesman to take him to Second and Daisy streets "where my wife is." He said she would want to see if the color of the new car was "right."

"And besides, I want to get $400 from her for a down payment," he said.

En route, the bunco man asked Chapman to stop at a cleaning establishment. Entering the place, the Negro stayed a moment, then came out to Chapman and said he was "embarrassed."

"When I got in there, I found I didn't have any money with me," the Negro stated. "I have $475 worth of clothes there. Can you lend me that sum until we get out to my place?"

Chapman gave him the money. The Negro entered the place again. That was the last seen of him. Quinlan reported the Negro used

FIVE CANDIDATES TAKE NEW ACTION

Nat H. Neff, formerly head of the county road department, today reappeared on the county official scene as a prospective candidate for the office of county surveyor. Neff obtained nomination papers from County Clerk R. J. Smith.

Dr. C. G. Huston, of Costa Mesa, candidate for supervisor from the fifth district four years ago, will try the race again, he indicated by applying at the clerk's office for nomination papers for that office.

Two Complete Entry

E. W. Reed, of Seal Beach, applied for nomination papers as constable of that township, an office he formerly held.

Meanwhile A. J. Cruickshank, former Santa Ana banker, filed his completed nomination papers and thereby qualified for a place on the ballot as candidate for county treasurer.

Supervisor N. E. West, of the fifth district, also filed his completed papers.

CONFISCATE GUNS

AFTER a complaint was entered last night against three boys who assertedly were shooting birds near the 1300-block of French street, Sergeant W. E. B. Sherwood confiscated their guns and locked them in the police department property room.

Similar methods with him but he had but 20 cents to offer. The Negro then took the 20 cents and disappeared. Quinlan reported.

Officers Harry Fink and B. A. Hershey are continuing an investigation today.

G. O. P. LEADERS LAUD MERRIAM

Forty Orange county Republicans met last night for dinner and formed the nucleus of an Orange County for Merriam club which is planned to be expanded to 1000 members within a few weeks.

Mayor F. C. Rowland of Santa Ana was named permanent chairman, and Lloyd Banks, Santa Ana, permanent secretary. A woman will be selected later as vice chairman.

Advisory Committee

Nine members of an advisory committee, which will be rounded out to at least 15 later, were selected on the basis of two from each supervisorial district.

This group includes, First district, Ben Lieberman and Art Main; Second district, John W. Crill and one yet to be named; Third, Art Shipkey and Albert Lawler; fourth, Roy Edwards and Dian R. Gardner; and Fifth, Leslie Kimmel and Ransler J. Baker.

The chairman was instructed to assist in the calling of a meeting of women members of the Republican party.

Pointing to the record of Governor Frank F. Merriam, speakers at the meeting declared "his reelection is vital to the welfare of California."

Many Praise Executive

"He is the only governor in the nation who has been able to balance his budget," declared Justice F. Cramer, state building and loan commissioner. "I have found him fearless in the face of actual physical danger as well as in the face of political threats."

Col. M. B. Wellington of Santa Ana paid tribute to the governor for his "ability to control difficult labor troubles."

Not since Leland Stanford has California had as able an administrator as Merriam. P. A. Stanton, highway commissioner, declared. The "sincerity and fine Christian character of Governor Merriam" is what has impressed S. C. Hartranft, former assemblyman. Albert Launer of Fullerton finds Merriam's "fine balance as an administrator" the factor which appeals to him.

friend of Raymond, against Munson, former police commissioner, for an old political debt of less than $3000.

"The Munson case is a red herring drawn across the case by the prosecution," Cantillon said.

"The prosecution didn't want us to show the proceedings in the Munson case, as we tried to do, because they knew that the contention that it was the motive for the bombing would fall by the wayside if we read the transcript."

"Broke" Munson

Cantillon referred to testimony that Raymond said he had "made Harry Munson and would break him" as far back as 1934.

"I think that was just bragging on Raymond's part, but the fact is that he did break him the same as he broke Councilman Carl Jacobson. Raymond and Gray went back to Oklahoma on an out-and-out blackmail scheme to see a woman Munson had been mixed up with. They got the dope on Munson all right and then sent him a telegram to the effect that 'for the good of the community you should resign.'"

"Just a little blackmail scheme, just a little shake-down to get that $3000, and when they didn't get the $3000, they were going after Munson," he said.

Japanese Troops
Traped by Flood

No mention was made of the fate of civilians. The city, on the east-west Lung-Hai railroad, had a population of 200,000.

Dispatches from Chinese portions of the central front asserted that the floods had completely stopped the Japanese drive in the Chengchow sector at the junction point of the Lung-Hai and the north-south Peiping-Hankow railroad.

Japanese Silent

Japanese had nothing to say regarding the flood. They did not explain the silence of their army which was at the gates of Changchow four days ago.

According to the Chinese, the floods were becoming steadily worse. They reported also that there were less serious floods along the Wei and Kwangsi rivers in northern Honan Province.

Holding Company
Votes to Dissolve

BALTIMORE, June 14.—(UP)—Directors of Chesapeake Corp., a top holding company of the former Van Swearingen rail empire, today voted to dissolve the corporation at the earliest possible opportunity.

Decision to dismantle the corporation was taken at a meeting of the board of directors at which interests of the Guaranty Trust Co., of New York obtained control of the board over the opposition of Robert S. Young, New York financier.

Guaranty interest, voting stock in the Chesapeake Corp., which previously had been frozen by court order, elected three new directors to the board giving it control.

SALESMAN SOUGHT

Two men reported to be selling rugs in the city without license were sought yesterday by Officers Harry Fink and Charles Polford but unsuccessfully. The men were described as about 25 years old. One was about six feet tall, weighing 175 pounds, the other, five feet, 10 inches tall, weighing about 165.

Plans Battle

Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, pictured above as she arrived on the S. S. Queen Mary, intimated that her 14-year-old daughter, Gloria, might again be the center of a court battle. Visibly disturbed by a report that the $5,000,000 child-heiress would be sequestered all summer at the Newport estate of Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, the child's aunt and major custodian, Mrs. Vanderbilt said she would consult her lawyer.

The Burgos government, he said, deplored the loss of life in Valencia and other ports.

Seek Solution

Chamberlain declared the British government had considered earnestly what action it could take to protect British shipping without reversing its declared policy of non-intervention but difficulties were encountered.

"Protection could only be afforded by stationing anti-aircraft defenses on land or on warships in or near port," he said. "To be effective, such defense would involve opening fire on all approaching aircraft."

of speculation. It was assumed that all such expenses would be included. They aggregate several hundred thousand dollars.

A telegram today from Congressman Harry Sheppard in Washington verified the refund compromise proposal, now in conference, as providing 100 per cent financing of flood control by the government.

Sheppard advised that Orange county should not stop progress on the flood control project, "as reimbursement as provided in the bill will always be available if enacted into law."

FDR SIGNS FLOOD
CONTROL MEASURE

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today signed the $229,987,000 war department civil functions bill carrying funds for river and harbor navigation improvements and flood control construction by the army engineers.

The measure, $954,000 larger than proposed by Mr. Roosevelt and carrying $24,025,000 reappropriated from unexpended funds, provides $24,049,000 less than was made available for the current fiscal year including $52,500,000 in emergency relief funds. Funds for the 1939 fiscal year may be similarly increased.

To carry on the $344,000,000 flood control program authorized in 1936, the bill carries $82,000,000. It also provides $31,000,000 for work on the Mississippi and tributaries.

Investigate
Theft From Mine

At request of Sam L. Collins, Fullerton attorney and former United States Congressman, sheriff's officers today began investigation of a $2900 theft of equipment from the Blue Light mine in Silverado canyon.

The equipment apparently has been hauled away piece-meal. Deputy Sheriff G. F. McKeivey and Herman Zabel, head of the sheriff's identification bureau, went into the canyon today to try to find fingerprints or other marks which might lead to identification of the thieves.

BEGS MILK, STEALS COAT

A hobo who, figuratively, bit the hand that fed him yesterday, was sought by police throughout the county. The man begged and was given a bottle of milk at Raitt's Milk company, 1008 East Fourth. When he finished his liquid lunch, dairy employees reported, he walked away with the $8 sheepskin coat of R. E. Geberd, dairy employee. The coat had been left in a truck.

In Saskatchewan, Canada, in order to rid the country of crows, a number of the birds were banded and released, with rewards offered for their capture. One bird carries a price of $500.

Body Found

Indications were Dr. Campbell rose early this morning while his family slept—determined to take his life. After an hour of writing notes, the distinguished scientist put a suit of clothes over his pajamas, went to the window and jumped.

The body, badly broken, was found by a newsboy, Andrew Martin, who called police.

Officers notified Dr. Campbell's son, Wallace, living nearby. Wallace awakened his mother and broke the news to her.

Noted Scientist

After serving many years as director of the University of California's Lick observatory on Mount Hamilton, near San Jose, Dr. Campbell was appointed president of the university in 1923 to succeed David Prescott Barrows. He served as president until 1936, retiring as emeritus.

Campbell was born on a farm in Hancock county, Ohio, April 11, 1862. He graduated with the degree of bachelor of science from the University of Michigan in 1886.

He started his career that year as instructor in mathematics at the University of Colorado, transferring two years later to the faculty of University of Michigan as instructor in astronomy.

Dr. Campbell led many notable astronomical expeditions throughout the world, notably the Lick observatory expedition to India in 1908.

Japan Makes Capital of Our Capital

As part of her campaign to protect American manufacturers from cheap-labor competition from abroad, Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers, above, of Massachusetts, displayed a collection of "patriotic" souvenirs of Washington, D. C., each tagged "Made in Japan." Besides the silk flag she holds, the exhibit included, left to right, a garbled replica of the White House, a Capitol pin cushion, a Washington Monument ash tray and a Lincoln Memorial jewel box.

Wages, Hours Bill Passed by House

ben W. Barkley announced a new effort would be made to pass the bill to liberalize Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans to railroads. The Railway Labor Executives Association refused to retreat from flat opposition to the measure.

2. John L. Lewis of the Committee for Industrial Organization lost his fight for house action on Walsh-Healey act amendments blacklisting from government contracts firms convicted of violating the Wagner labor act. The House rules committee tabled a resolution to send the amendments to the floor.

3. Speaker William B. Bankhead said he would set no time for adjournment until the House acts on the recovery and flood control conference reports, and bills on autogiro development, radio monopoly investigation, merchant marine inquiry, Mexican claims, Camp Springs, Md., airport, the fine arts bureau, railroad employees' injury liability, and monopoly and phosphates investigations.

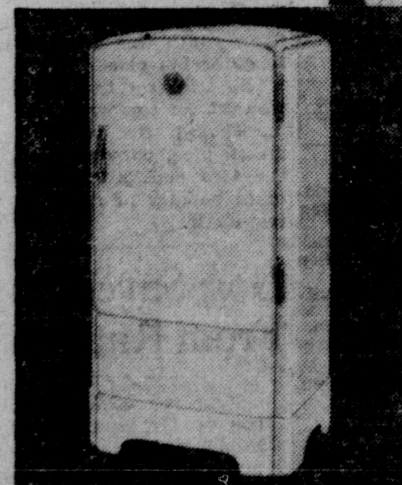

3. Senate audit and control committee reported a compromise on Sen. Millard Tydings' request for an inquiry into Works Progress political activity. The compromise would direct the Senate campaign investigating committee to investigate vote influencing by WPA and all other agencies of federal, state or local government.

5. Senate approved the conference report and sent to the White House a bill placing first, second and third class postmasters under civil service and making their length of service indeterminate.

ONE INJURED IN AREA CRASHES

Three accidents, one of which was followed by a spectacular chase of an alleged hit-run, drunk driver, occurred on Orange county highways last night, according to police officials who reported one person injured.

Richard S. Nequette, 20, Route 1, Box 187-a, Fullerton, suffered a dislocated arm and series bruises at 11:30 p. m. yesterday when he failed to negotiate a turn at Magnolia and Whittaker, one and one-half miles east of Buena Park, and his Austin Coupe overturned, pinning his arm beneath. California highway officers investigated.

Driver Disappears
According to allegations of witnesses, Nequette attempted to make the turn while traveling too fast. He is being treated at county hospital.

At Commonwealth avenue and Manchester boulevard, half a mile west of Buena Park, at 5:30 p. m., a car driven by C. G. McComber, 43, Buena Park feed store proprietor, assertedly side-swiped two other cars and McComber disappeared without stopping.

Charges Are Filed
According to allegations, McComber, now in county jail on charges of drunk driving, being drunk and hit-run driving, came onto Manchester, going north on Western. His car assertedly collided with cars operated by Hazel Stodart, 35, Buena Park, and George Milburn, Los Angeles.

Then, according to assertions of witnesses, McComber proceeded west on Commonwealth to Grand, turned on Grand and proceeded to Artesia. He was run down and forced to the curb by Milburn and two other men. Further assertions said McComber jumped into a friend's car and attempted to hide from California Highway officers Vernon Barnhill and L. J. Macoskey.

Ticket Meted Out
The officers located McComber, it was reported, in the McComber feed store, Buena Park. Examined by a Santa Ana doctor, McComber was pronounced "very drunk." None was injured in the accidents. In another non-injury accident at Fourth and Flower, last evening, cars driven by W. O. Sidann, Santa Ana, and Roland Butler, Riverside, collided. Butler assertedly admitted he failed to make the boulevard stop as he drove westerly on Fourth. He was ticketed for boulevard stop jumping and use of faulty brakes. Sidann was ticketed on a charge he failed to have a driver's license.

POSTOFFICE AIDES BLUSH AS THEY PROTEST G-MAN'S CAR

When a G-man "gets" the works, it's something to use the mails in writing home about. That was an opinion expressed today after Santa Ana postal clerks, bothered because an automobile was parked on postoffice property to the asserted disadvantage of rural route cars which are loaded in the early morning officers, called police.

According to report of Charles Story of the postoffice staff at 4:15 a. m. today to Santa Ana police, the strange car parked beside the postoffice was "in the way." Officers Richard M. Bradley and Daniel M. Jones went to investigate. They found the car locked up securely. Even the steering wheel was locked.

Hurried Back in Place!
"We certainly need the space and wish you would have the car moved," the officers were informed. A local garage crew was called and the car hauled away by a tow car to a safe place in the garage.

A little while later, garage officials called police and reported the car registered to a government man, Fred Leben, San Bernardino. He is a postal inspector, the officers were told. According to reports, the car was hurriedly taken back to the postoffice.

Argumentative Type Man Decried

Leroy Riley, visitor in Santa Ana from Ayer, Mass., complained to Officer Paul Cozad yesterday that a man standing at Fourth and Main streets "has been trying to argue and fight with me." When Officer Cozad sought to question the man, the man refused to give his name.

Later, however, at police headquarters where all three went to discuss the trouble, the man gave his name. Officer Cozad reported the man loiters at Fourth and Main frequently and several complaints have been entered against his allegedly argumentative habits.

J. C. FACULTY POSTS FILLED TO ROAD TESTS

Two instructorships in Santa Ana Junior College were filled by the board of education last evening after extensive search through the colleges and universities for material, when Dr. Kyle A. Lyon was elected instructor of philosophy and psychology, and Dr. Olive M. Warner was elected instructor of social science.

Dr. Warner comes here from Stanford university, where he has taught history and political science since his graduation from that institution in 1931, when he received his A. B. degree. He received his A. M. degree in 1934 and his Ph. D. degree this year.

Wide Experience
Dr. Lyon, receiving his A. B. degree at the University of Utah in 1926, his A. M. degree at the University of Colorado in 1931, and his Ph. D. degree from the University of Colorado in 1933, has been teaching six years. He and Mrs. Lyon spent eight months of the current school year on a world cruise.

Waino Armas Lauri, former army captain, experienced in police and welfare agency work, and having taught five years in Washington and Idaho schools, was elected to the vacancy at high school caused by extension of Miss Lulu Finley's leave of absence another year. Miss Finley received the extension last night.

Elementary Posts Filled
Seven elementary vacancies were filled last night. They were: Miss Grace Eleanor Jenkins, graduate of Santa Ana Junior college in 1936 and Redlands university in 1938; Miss Harriett E. Abrams, graduate of Santa Ana J. C. in 1935 and U.C.L.A. in 1937; Miss Vera M. Beers, graduate of Santa Ana J. C. in 1935 and U.C.L.A. in 1938; Miss Ruth Christ, graduate of Santa Ana J. C. in 1935 and of Santa Ana J. C. in 1935 and Occidental in 1937; Miss Verna J. Bannister, former teacher at Flint, graduate of Mills college in Lancaster.

DRIVERS SUBMIT TO ROAD TESTS

Paced by three members of the Santa Ana Traffic Safety commission, hundreds of motorists from Santa Ana and vicinity today voluntarily submitted to rigid tests of their automobiles by five members of the California Highway Patrol in the newly-created "safety lane" on Nineteenth street between Main and Broadway.

The three members of the commission who passed the examination with flying colors were Chairman Elmer Heidt, A. A. Motry, and Dr. Roy S. Horton.

Headed by Captain Earl Griffin, the special squad of patrolmen, assisted by Captain Henry C. Meehan of the local offices of the patrol, will operate all this week between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. Capt. Griffin expects to examine more than 1500 cars during the week here.

Checked on a system of 25 points, drivers are given duplicate cards at the opening of the tests. With the exception of wheel alignment, listed separately, various points of the car are checked by the crew and the duplicate cards are marked "O. K." or "unsafe." The test requires only three minutes for completion.

The tests are in no sense compulsory, Griffin pointed out. If the motorist stopped is unable to take the time at the moment for the test he is free to go on. However, Griffin stated, it is a safety step and any motorist should be glad to have the efficiency of his car tested for safety's sake alone.

FOUR BOOKED AS DRUNK DRIVERS

Four men were booked at county jail today on drunk driving charges.

D. O. Rhodes, 29-year-old Oklahoma teamster, temporary resident of Seal Beach, was nabbed by California Highway Officers Oscar Kelly and Herman Lenz yesterday afternoon.

Jailed for 90 Days

Pleading guilty before Justice K. E. Morrison, he was jailed for 90 days. Officers Vernon Barnhill and L. J. Macoskey, also of the highway patrol, arrested C. G. McComber, 43, Buena Park, last night in Anaheim township.

Anaheim police arrested John G. Moreno, 32, 427 1/2 South Helena, Anaheim, and Marvin Barnes, 28, 207 East Truslow, Fullerton, and brought them to county jail yesterday. Barnes immediately began serving a 75-day term.

MILLER SEES 'WAR INEVITABLE' THROUGH 'EYES FROM MARS'

This is the first dispatch by Webb Miller, general European news manager of the United Press, giving a graphic picture of how Britain is preparing itself feverishly against war from the air. The second dispatch will be carried tomorrow.

BY WEBB MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1938 by United Press)

LONDON, June 14.—(UP)—If a visitor from Mars dropped into London today, he would think that war is inevitable and is coming soon.

Thousands of Londoners are vacating top floor flats in fear of air raids. Some are moving into the suburbs.

Thousands are buying canned goods and starting food boards. Apartment buildings advertise bomb-proof shelters as a renting attraction.

Schools Join In

Department stores offer to gas-proof rooms in the homes of customers at $62 a room.

Private schools are notifying parents of arrangements to evacuate London and resume classes in the country in the event of war. When I sublet my Kensington flat in London the other day, the woman who leased it took the place because the telephone exchange under construction next door is being equipped with a massive basement shelter against bombs and gas, which she hopes she will be permitted to use if war comes.

Measure For Gas Masks

The first communication I received after I had moved into the suburb of Walton-On-Thames was

By the end of this summer, the government plans to be in a position to furnish a mask for every one of the 45,000,000 men, women and children in the British Isles.

Ghastly Fact Obvious

More than 35,000,000 masks have been finished. They are scattered at warehouses throughout the country, where they are kept at constant temperature under chemical treatment to prevent deterioration.

Watching gangs loading cars with thousands of masks brought home the ghastly fact of war hovering over Europe more vividly than anything I have yet seen or heard.

DEATH LAID TO FAILING SIGHT

Failing eye-sight which threatened to leave him blind caused John G. McNichol, 63, 466 Myrtle avenue, Laguna Beach, to commit suicide by walking, fully clothed, into the ocean, according to reports of officials today, after the finding of the body. He disappeared May 15.

Mr. McNichol, a retired accountant, left several neatly penned farewell notes for friends, including James H. Reed of Laguna Beach. "Tell the boys goodbye," the note said.

Mr. McNichol's body was found on the beach at 5 p. m. yesterday, between Salt Creek and Dana Point, by Ernest G. Shepherd, 3205 Milton street, Pasadena; Helen Shepherd, of the same address; Frank L. Ashley, 415 North Rowland, Temple City, and Dorothy K. Ashley, same address. The foursome was picnicking at the beach at the time.

The body was removed to the Laguna Beach funeral home where plans for a funeral are being made. No inquest will be held. There are no known relatives, according to Coroner Earl Abbey.

Harold Boyce, San Clemente officer, and Deputy Sheriffs Harvey Gulick and Tom Murphree assisted in the investigation.

A native of Scotland, Mr. McNichol who had many friends at Laguna Beach, had an interesting career during his life, friends revealed. At one time, he was valet for an English lord while for many years, also, he was employed as secretary by a millionaire in eastern United States and made 70 trips across the Atlantic ocean with the millionaire.

LOCAL VETERANS FAVOR FLAG SALUTE LAW FOR S. A. SCHOOLS

Speaking on behalf of Ernest Kellogg Post 1680, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Commander H. J. Clayton today endorsed a resolution favoring a state law making it mandatory for all school children to salute the American flag.

The resolution was presented yesterday afternoon by Ed Neron, Sacramento, past department commander, at the opening session of the state encampment at San Jose yesterday.

Refusal Is Cited

Neron said "the state Supreme Court is likely to uphold lower court rulings in a present test case which held there is no law making children salute the flag." The Sacramento case involved a girl who refused to salute the flag for religious reasons.

Mrs. Esther Hendrickson, of Santa Ana, V. F. W. auxiliary today was nominated for office in the California department, and will receive the support of many friends in the Second District comprised of Los Angeles county, and the Third district, comprised of Orange, Riverside, and San Bernardino counties.

Delegates paraded through San Jose streets in one of the city's noisiest demonstrations before the opening meeting yesterday.

QUIZZED IN THEFTS

Boys 11, 12 and 14 years old, were apprehended by J. E. Brown, rancher of West 17th street, and brought to the sheriff's office for questioning yesterday. Fined $15 after pleading guilty on a drunk charge before City Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday, John Ysaia, 26, 1812 West Third, had a few hours of freedom. At 5:47 p. m., he was arrested a second time on a charge of simple assault.

Constable Jesse Elliott made the arrest on a warrant issued by Justice Kenneth Morrison. Ysaia pleaded not guilty and was ordered to trial June 22, 9 a. m. He was released, pending trial, on his own recognizance. Complaint against Ysaia was signed by his wife, Jennie, who alleged he beat her.

NEED CITED FOR BASIC CHANGES

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 14.—Success in the operation of unemployment compensation in America depends materially on the introduction of certain basic changes in the present system of paying unemployment compensation benefits, James L. Matthews, chairman of the Unemployment Reserves Commission declared in an address this afternoon before the Institute of Government at the University of Southern California.

First, Matthews asserted, is the necessity for simplification of operations which will follow as more experience is acquired in the actual payment of compensation.

Flat Rate Basis
Second, is the task of surmounting the "vast sea of ignorance" surrounding the unemployment compensation program in California, despite extensive efforts of the Unemployment Reserves Commission to disseminate specific and general information to the public, both employer and employee.

Matthews said that possibly some means of benefit payments on the basis of a flat rate, without destroying the American system in favor of European plans, which would eliminate the necessity of employers submitting earnings reports, would automatically simplify procedures. Under the present system there are several hundred different sums an individual may receive in benefits.

"Here To Stay"
"If it were possible to reduce these different computations to three or four major classifications," Matthews said, "the results would be incalculable so far as simplification and economy are concerned."

"Unemployment compensation, however, in one form or another is here to stay," Matthews declared. "In its present application there is both weakness and strength. Our present task is slowly and steadily correcting where necessary and bracing where the structure is weakest, and we hope to achieve all the features which were so brilliantly advocated in founding of the national program."

"TIME" HALTS FLIGHT, AND 'BOB' JONES WINS NEW SUIT

"Time stood still" for Robert E. Jones, 18, of 1102 West Pine, Sunday afternoon when the big clock in Vandermast's window ticked its last tick, the hand coming to rest over Robert's name, indicating that he was the winner of the $25 suit of clothes offered by the store.

The clock bore the names of all the young men in the 1938 High School graduating class. It was wound up and started on its way on Tuesday morning, May 31st. It relieved nearly 13 days of terrific suspense when it stopped Sunday afternoon.

Many relatives and interested persons were present when the clock gave up, but it was the hour of the Baccalaureate sermon, and young Jones' good fortune reached him at the High School at great risk to

Director and Mrs. D. K. Hammond will accompany the group.

Maliciousness Is Gist of Report

Sheriff's officers were called upon yesterday to investigate acts of malicious mischief committed by Orange county boys, according to complaints.

Employees of the Oceanview store told Deputy Sheriff Duhart and Ed Hoffman boys hurled rocks and broke the store window. Mrs. Hattie Talbert, of Talbert, Route 1, Huntington Beach, reported some boys of the Talbert district hurled stones and broke windows from the Talbert church. An investigation by Deputy Hoffman led to the boys' apprehension.

Parents of the boys paid for replacement of the windows and the boys were released.

Jones made the following statement to the interviewer: (Excitedly) "Oh-h-h boy! I mean, that's great, you know! Can I use that suit! I've been working at a sweet shop after school, and at a market on Saturdays, just to get money to buy some clothes. Say, when they told me about it Sunday, I grabbed mother by the arm the minute the sermon was over and we hurried down to look at the clock. Of course, I'm glad I won. The only thing is, there were some other fellows' names on the clock that need suits too. Anyway, I want to thank the clock, and thank Vandermast's for the fine suit."

The PAYOFF

By HARRY GRAYSON

For a business, which in the major leagues alone is evaluated at $40,000,000, baseball officials, particularly league heads, show an amazing lack of business and common sense.

The continuation of the Johnny Allen-Bill McGowan feud is something in the way of evidence. There was no earthly reason for Will Harridge, the rubber stamp at the head of the American League, assigning McGowan to umpire the Cleveland series in Boston.

Even Harridge must have known that Allen and McGowan were something less than lodge brothers. Since umpires' assignments are made from week to week, and made secretly, it would have been no public rebuke to McGowan had he been shunted elsewhere for a spell. Particularly with his waving a red flag in front of Allen, a $20,000-a-year pitcher, since 1933, and with the Cleveland club fighting to retain its lead.

Baseball is governed stupidly. Ford Frick certainly didn't cover himself with any posies last season in the ridiculous attitude he took when "Dizzy" Dean mouthed a few words about the incompetency of a National League arbiter, George Barr. When O'Leary refused to bow down to the Frickian ultimatum, he made the former radio announcer look like something less than Einstein.

UMPIRE CONTROLS PITCHER

An umpire controls a pitcher's destiny. Good pitchers are artists. They pitch to spots with remarkable accuracy.

Their bread and butter depends upon an umpire being able to determine whether a pitch shaded the corner, or was low enough to be called a strike, and thus be effective in the strike zone.

Carl Hubbell weakened under the pressure against the New York Yankees in the opening game of the world series last fall, not because of the dynamite of the Riffes' bats, but because Steve Basil was not calling low pitches strikes. The Giants' famous left-hander has yet to complain, but Basil's decisions put him in the hole, forced him to come through the middle. And coming through the middle against the Joe McGowan men who were, like like Hitler the Bronx cheer in Berlin. It wasn't healthy.

Of the four umpires assigned to the world series last October, Basil, an American leaguer, was the only one who never had officiated in the fashion show of baseball.

CENTRAL AUTHORITY NEEDED

That was merely another indictment of the league heads... the ex-clerks, stenographers, and radio announcers who induced otherwise sensible baseball men to set them up as tin gods.

What baseball needs is a central governing authority for umpires. If Johnny Allen can't get along with McGowan, why not send in another umpire? Allen can't very well work with them all.

And why shouldn't the two major leagues exchange umpires? For instance, suppose Bill Klem and Dolly Stark of the National League had knicked into Fenway Park last afternoon that Allen renewed his feud with McGowan? Certainly, no red flag would have been waved in Allen's face, and when a pitcher has had three arguments in three different games with one umpire by early June, it is about time that someone in authority kept them apart.

But baseball succeeds in spite of those at its head, as the late Charley Ebbets once remarked.

And I suppose that the hundreds of thousands of dollars invested in baseball is in no greater jeopardy today than it was when the famous old owner of the Brooklyn Dodgers made that sage remark.

A little jittery about the whole thing, Santa Ana's Stars play at Whittier tonight before "digging in" against the National Night Ball league's big three—Huntington Beach, San Bernardino and Anaheim.

Whittier is a long shot, but a good one. Barron of victory in their first 10 starts, the Poets indicated they were about ready to go somewhere last week when they carried Huntington Beach 11 innings before losing, 1-0. On their own lot, tonight might be Whittier's night although Manager "Doc" Smith has his Santa Anas playing pretty good ball right now and they'll be favored.

The Poets have a weak hitting club and are only so-so on defense yet husky Harold Burch is one of the ranking pitchers of the league. If Whittier gets him a few runs he can beat anybody. When the Stars stopped the Poets here during the first round Burch came in as a relief pitcher for "String" McDonnell. Santa Ana made only one run and two hits off him in seven innings. Burch has a fast race something like the ball "Chico" Sabella throws. With McDonnell released, Burch now works all of Whittier's games and he is improving rapidly.

Santa Ana has won its last three games. Manager Smith naturally hopes to keep the Stars at top speed for the cluster of contests with the three teams that rank above them in the standings. Impressed with their hustle and hitting, Smith intends to keep his lineup intact. Art Heinisch, the big junior collegian who got through his against Irvine, including a home run in the left field bleachers with two on, will not be available so either Smith or Tom Lacy will be in right field. Stanley Jacobsmeier of course, will pitch. He beat Whittier here in May, 7-2, scattering Whittier's 10 hits nicely after a slow start.

Back in first place after a slight relapse, their lineup intact with the return of George Murray to the outfield, the Oilers of Huntington Beach move into Irvine with "Fuzzy" Errington a possible starting gunner. Anaheim and Orange collide at Orange in a game that means a lot to Santa Ana. The Valencias are just ahead of the Stars; the Cubs are just behind. Brea goes to San Bernardino. Like Whittier, the Red Lions could surprise "a price," as they say at the track.

Schmeling Lets Louis Worry About Second Battle

Sarazen Plays Hunch And Goes To England

By HENRY McLEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO—Gene Sarazen is going to gamble $10,000 and a month of his time on the old saying—"like father, like son."

Late this month Sarazen will sail for England and the British Open golf championship on the sentimental hunch that Jimmy Daniels will be there at Sandwich to caddy for him.

Jimmy Daniels—but first let me tell you about his father.

Crossing for the 1938 Open Sarazen told Walter Hagen how badly he wanted to win the British title, and Hagen said if you can get Daniels to pack your bags he might bring you in, because he's the best caddy in the world.

Gene found Daniels at Sandwich—a little wisp of a man of 52, who carried a cane to support the knee that was shattered in the war, and whose threadbare overcoat was always buttoned high about his throat to protect a chest that had been gassed. A dapper little man, with a celluloid collar and a prim little bow tie, Daniels said he would work for Gene.

"There never was one like him," Gene said today as we sat in the Congress between trains. "He knew every blade of grass on Sandwich, and after a few practice rounds he knew every shot I could hit and couldn't hit. Just don't take anything more than fives, and we'll come in first," he told me. But I wouldn't listen to him, and on the treacherous fourteenth hole I went out badly with a brassie after he had advised me to play with a mashie, and wound up with a seven. That seven ruined me, and I finished two strokes behind Hagen, the winner. When they were giving the cup, with all the lords and nobles standing around, I saw Daniels on the edge of the crowd. Tears were running down his face. Before I left he came up to me and said "Mister Sarazen, if I live long enough I'll bring you in."

Gene found Daniels at Sandwich—a little wisp of a man of 52, who carried a cane to support the knee that was shattered in the war, and whose threadbare overcoat was always buttoned high about his throat to protect a chest that had been gassed. A dapper little man, with a celluloid collar and a prim little bow tie, Daniels said he would work for Gene.

"After the cup ceremony was over I walked with Daniels and his little boys to my car. Just before I left I leaned out the car and shook his hand and then threw him my polo coat. He gave it to one of his boys to hold.

Six months later Gene heard that Daniels had died.

But one of the kids on the bicycle handlebars is 16 now, and a caddy. That's why Sarazen is going to England this year.

Baca Pounds Out Win Over Slugging Gomez

Fernie Baca is still undefeated at the Orange County Athletic club. The handsome Ontario Indian looks too good for the amateur boxers and will be turning pro soon.

Baca and Marty Gomez, a tough hombre, kept the house in an uproar last night by standing toe-to-toe and slugging each other with everything but the club's license for four solid rounds with Baca in the lead all the way.

Gomez was far from a "set-up," being willing and ringwise, but Baca didn't slow up his punches long enough for Gomez to get set. Fernie easily earned Referee Jack Allen's nod at the end of the fourth round, sending the fans home happy and Gomez to the showers with a bad nose.

Tom O'Connell took a close decision over "Red" O'Shannon in the semi-windup that was as good as the main event. They went into a swinging bee in the second that lasted fully two minutes. O'Connell finally floored "Red" for the nine count. "Red" tore back in the second with another barrage of lefts and rights, dropping O'Connell for a short count. The third and fourth were so fast that the referee even came in for a punch in the ribs by O'Connell who was throwing leather and O'Shannon handing it back so fast that the social error was overlooked with a grin by Allen.

Frankie Gardea knocked out Badge Diaz in the second round after flooring the willing but inexperienced Mexican three times.

"Buddy" O'Brien was given the decision over Al Placentia at the end of the first round, Placentia's eye being so badly cut the referee thought it best to stop the fight.

"Flash" Gordon, a six-foot heavyweight, was awarded a decision over Ernie Shive of Tustin for what good reason none of the fans seemed to know. Shive out-punched Gordon all the way until Gordon cut loose in the fourth. Among other casualties, Johnnie Arenas was awarded a technical k. o. over Roy Stafford, colored clown. Kid Buddy floored Gil Morales in the second with more gloves than the Mexican had ever seen before. Cruz Dias stopped "Chuck" Niemeyer in one.

New Argentine equine retrenchments are on their way to Hollywood Park. A shipment of four horses, representing an investment of 130,000 pesos, is expected to arrive from Buenos Aires within the next few days.

Morris and Frank Kozinsky, Los Angeles turfmen who purchased Amor Brujo at Santa Anita last winter, are importing four 3-year-olds, the cream of the Argentine crop. One of them, Oro Negro (Black Gold) is a full brother of Amor Brujo and is said to be the best horse of his age in Argentine.

Luro is Agent

Horace Luro, Buenos Aires sportsman and breeder, acted for the Kozinskys in the transaction. Luro brought Amor Brujo to this country and won two handicaps with him at Tanforan last fall before he sold him to the Kozinskys.

"I don't know how to pronounce the names of these horses," Frank Kozinsky said, "but I know they are bred in the deep purple and have excellent racing records in the Argentine."

The shipment is expected to reach New York within a day or two and the four horses will be rushed to the coast. It is unlikely, however, if any of them will start until the latter part of the meeting as it will be necessary to get them acclimated first.

In the meantime, Amor Brujo, the "love witch," is at Pleasanton, and will be shipped to Inglewood shortly to prepare for the $50,000 Hollywood Gold Cup July 16. He "popped" a knee at Bay Meadows and has been on the shelf.

Plan Breeding Farm

The Kozinsky brothers plan to establish a large California breeding farm, using the Argentine stock as a nucleus. The new blood, tracing back to England's finest thoroughbred families, will be a noteworthy addition to California bloodlines.

A. E. Silver, who trained Amor Brujo, will return to Inglewood to take over the training of the new invaders.

Frank Kozinsky tried to purchase several horses in the East for a whirl at the Hollywood Gold Cup but it is virtually impossible to buy a really top-line horse in this country at the present time. He tried to get Stagedhand at Santa Anita last winter, reporting that Earl Sande was willing to sell the colt for $10,000 at the outset of the season, but wanted to wait until the meeting was over to complete the deal. In the interim, Stagedhand became a champion and selling him was out of the question.

SPRINTERS VIE TOMORROW

Thirteen ranking sprinters go postward tomorrow in the $1500 Pasadena Handicap at six furlongs. Nominations include Bill Farnsworth, Dogaway, Sweepalot, Casacabello, Murph, Alviso, Fairfull, Maud, Mr. Blaze, Gallacay, Lithorome, Lady Florise, San Luis Rey and Stand In.

Nominations were also released for the $5000 added Beverly Hills Handicap at a mile and a sixteenth Saturday. This is for California-breds, and will bring out Lloyd Pan, Lady Florise, Rolling Ball, Deer Fly, Real Clear, Naseby, Denbigh, Barnsley, Orrie, Sir Ridgway, Don Roberto, Sky Rhonda, Brown Jade, Paia Chief, Bosworth and Sky Glare.

ALL YEAR STABLES

Reports from the East say that a number of large stables, which in past years have campaigned in the East during the summer, will remain on the Pacific Coast next year. Warren Wright's Calumet stable, W. E. Ziegler and several other outfits are expected to make California their all-year racing front.

There still is a chance that Hal Price Headley will send out Bourbon King and Dah He for a Hollywood campaign.

Girl Softball Player Hits 15 Homers In Game

IDAHO FALLS, Ida.—(UP)—The schoolkeeper lost track of the actual score so only home runs were tallied in a game here in which two girl softball players belted out 24 circuit clouts in a single game.

Playing for the Whales team, Alice Mann connected with 15 four-baggers to take high score honors for the day, while Edith Johnson of the rival Sharks drove the ball over the fence nine times.

Hors d'Combat

"Gabby" Hartnett goes to the ball game these days, but as a spectator. The garrulous catcher smokes a cigar while his broken finger heals and he roots for the Chicago Cubs from the dugout.

POMPTON LAKES, N. J.—(UP)—The die of the Joe Louis-Max Schmeling heavyweight title fight a week from tomorrow night has been cast so far as the champion is concerned. Louis will wear out and try to nail his man from the opening bell.

"Ain't no use foolin' around like I did las' time," Joe said. "If he'll stand up and fight me, I'll knock him out befo' the second round's over. Course if he dogs it for a while, it'll take four or five.

"Smellin' didn't give me my first licking. I was beaten as an amateur, but I came back to win later from everyone of 'em. Smellin' ain't no different from the rest. I know how to fight him now. If he'll mix it with me this time, the fight won't go three rounds."

Louis trainer, Jack Blackburn, was equally positive that "Chaplin" has learned all the answers since he was tagged by Schmeling's right in 1936.

Hague Defiant At Court Hearing

NEWARK, N. J., June 14.—(UP)—Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City testified at a federal court hearing today that "any one who comes here (Jersey City) and is displeased with our government should not go back where he came from, but should be driven back."

Spaulding Frazer, counsel for the C.I.O. and the American Civil Liberties union questioned Hague at resumption of the hearing on an application for an injunction to restrain Jersey City officials from interfering with civil rights.

"Do you believe that persons who believe in the doctrine of Mussolini, Stalin and Hitler should go back where they came from?" Frazer asked.

Hague replied that such persons should be "driven back."

Oh naught is real or always good, Except my handicap— Oh only Hawkeye has withstood, Life's detonating cap!

"Old Hawkeye never disappoints you," chuckled the noted maestro of the turf, "in fact, he exceeds expectations," he concluded modestly.

A check-up disclosed that this was indeed so, most emphatically so, being merely a simple statement of plain fact.

Needless to say, his astute play for Saturday, (Specify) won just like he said he would, netting the gargantuan modicum of one cent and 40 cents.

OPEN NEW $500,000 SEATTLE BALL PARK

SEATTLE — (UP)—The Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast baseball league will move into their new $500,000 park tomorrow when they open a seven-game series with Portland.

Situated in a residential district only a few miles from the business section, the park was built by the club's new owner, Emil G. Sick, as one of the features of the "new deal" he promised Seattle baseball fans.

Players said the turf field compares favorably with any other in the league. It has 115,000 square feet of playing area, with the right and left field fences 335 feet from home plate at the foul lines, and the centerfield fence 415 feet away.

The stands will seat approximately 15,000.

COUNCIL MAY ENLARGE PARK

FULLERTON, June 14.—Enlargement of Amerigo park on West Commonwealth avenue was considered last night when members of the city council voted unanimously to accept an option on two and three-eighths acres on the west side of the park. The option is to run one month and the price asked is $11,000.

Councilmen agreed to this on recommendation of Councilman Walter Muckenthaler, who said, "In view of the possibility of the election carrying in July we may need this land, so I vote we accept the option." The voters will decide whether the park is to be used merely as recreation grounds or as a site, in part, for a new city hall.

On recommendation of Councilman Ollie Cole, a letter is to be sent to Congressman Harry Sheppard, asking him to hurry, if possible, the release of funds for use in flood control on the creeks in Fullerton. The new planning commission ordinance was passed. It is designed to bring the ordinance up to date and in accordance with the state planning commission ordinance.

Mayor T. K. Cowen reappointed Mrs. G. W. Sherwood and Dr. Jesse Chilton to the city library board.

Riley's Expense Account Approved

Supervisor Harry Riley's expense account for his sojourn in Washington, D. C. from April 5 to May 26, was filed with the county supervisors today, and approved by Supervisor John Mitchell. The bill totaled $485.45, not including railroad fare nor a hotel bill of approximately $100, which was paid directly from Orange county.

Riley's meals in Washington averaged $1.70 each, the total for 123 meals being $209.35. His claim included an item of $75.60 for "conference expense with authorities and co-workers." Taxi fare amounted to $58.15. Smaller items of $2 for business cards, $1.75 and $1.8 for laundry bills, and other hotel bills, stenographer expense, etc., were included.

200 Miss Death In Train Wreck

DUNSMUIR, Calif., June 14.—(UP)—One engine and three cars of the Southern Pacific's Cascade Limited from Portland to San Francisco were derailed today at Cantara Loop, five miles south of here. There were no casualties.

Two hundred passengers, however, were shaken up when the heavy train, straining up a grade at 15 miles an hour behind two locomotives, came to a jarring halt.

The second engine, a diner, a lounge car and a sleeper left the rails. All remained upright. Southern Pacific officials did not know what caused the accident but surmised it probably was a turned rail.

Fear Outbreak As Mexicans Ballot

HERMOSILLO, Sonora, Mex., June 14.—(UP)—Disorders were feared today as supporters of four candidates for the governorship of Sonora prepared for a "show-down" vote to end their bitter wrangling.

Federal troops were stationed in the streets and all bars were closed for the remainder of the political convention of Mexican labor and Agrarian groups. Police reinforcements were also ordered to stand guard over the convention.

Parties represented in the convention, all affiliated with the powerful Confederation of Mexican Workers, were expected to split into three or four factions over nomination of a candidate for governor.

FLY CASTING TOURNAMENT IS SOUGHT BY HUNTINGTON BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 14.—An invitation to have the annual Western Fly Casting tournament held in Huntington Beach July 1, 2, 3 and 4, 1939, will be extended by R. G. Miller, world's long distant and salmon fly casting champion, at the tournament that will be held in Oakland July 1, 2, 3 and 4.

The board of directors of the chamber of commerce last night voted to have Miller extend the invitation.

The tournament would bring hundreds of fly casting experts and their families to the city. The sportsmen would hold their tournament in Lake park, using the only casting pool in Orange county.

The directors issued a vote of confidence to the city council for the manner in which it is handling the city's business. The body voted to stand back of the council in its activities and its methods of operation.

Y. M. Lease For Jaycee Approved

Renewal of lease on the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium by Santa Ana Junior College was approved by the board of education last night, but negotiations will be carried on by the board for the purpose of obtaining, if possible, a flat lease price of $3600 per year, or some suitable sum, instead of basing the price on attendance.

The school will have paid the Y. M. C. A. about $4200 for use of the gymnasium this school year, under the present method of paying $6 per month per pupil using the gymnasium.

Ridley Smith, board member, raised the question of seeking a new method at last night's meeting, and Chairman George Wells and Secretary George Newcom were named as a committee to interview Y. M. C. A. officials on the matter. Smith said he thought $3600 would be about the right figure for the lease.

Sailors Union To Form New Group

FACES MURDER COUNT ON SEAS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—(UP)—Harry Karn, a ship waiter aboard the Dollar liner President Cleveland, was held on a federal charge of attempt to commit murder on the high seas today because he allegedly put corrosive washing powder into food intended for Mrs. U. Collins, Los Angeles, a passenger.

U. S. Attorney Valentine Hammock said Karn had signed a statement saying he had intended the washing powder as a "Mickey Finn" in Mrs. Collins' oatmeal.

"Mickey—Makes It Right!" "I didn't think the washing powder was poisonous," Hammock quoted him. "I have had it put in my own food numerous times, by fellow crew members, as a prank."

Karn was ordered held for the federal grand jury after waiving a hearing before U. S. Commissioner E. E. Williams.

'13TH' IS DUAL JINX TO PARRA

Friday the 13th probably always will be considered by Ysabel Parra, local man, as his unlucky day. Not only was he arrested on Friday the 13th in May, on a drunk driving count but officials made his prosecution doubly certain by filing drunk driving charges against him in two Orange county townships.

Quickly Files Charges Chased from Santa Ana by Officers W.E.B. Sherwood and Herman Stahl, the Parras disappeared from Santa Ana township by crossing the Santa Ana river bridge, traveling west into Huntington Beach township. At the end of a half mile's chase, the pair was apprehended—in Huntington Beach township.

Deputy Walker did not hesitate in filing against the Parras. He filed charges of drunk driving against Ysabel and drunk against Joe in both townships.

"While they were first seen in Santa Ana township, actually they were arrested in Huntington Beach township," he said. "So I didn't take any chances about the prosecution."

Several days ago, the drunk charge against J. Parra was dismissed by Justice Kenneth Morrison of Santa Ana on the grounds there was insufficient evidence to prosecute here. Yesterday, Judge Morrison heard the charge against Ysabel Parra and dismissed it on the grounds he had no jurisdiction. But Ysabel soon must face the drunk driving charge at Huntington Beach and Joe still faces the drunk charge there, officials reported.

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, June 14.—In this morning's mail arrived a letter that I want to quote here. It reads: "I came from Chicago, eager and curious of course, to see a movie star. One day, in Hollywood, there one was! I asked for her autograph and my request was met with such disdain that it made me ill. We outsiders weave dreams about the stars and hate to see them die."

"Last night I was in Hollywood again, Cesar Romero, one of my favorites, drove alongside and I knew him at once... what a silly idea came to me—to follow him—and I did, out to Bel-Air where he went into one of those palatial homes. On a sudden impulse, I went right up and rang the bell and asked for him. Believe it or not, he was gracious enough to leave a dinner party and give me his autograph. He must have talked to me for at least five minutes. Why can't all of them understand how sincere we are in our admiration. They are only people, after all, not gods and goddesses, but to us they spell glamour and romance. It hurts to have our admiration torn down—as mine came very nearly being when that first star snubbed my request for an autograph."

Can you say that I endorse the idea of interrupting people at dinner parties—but I think it might be a good idea for a few of our ritzier stars to read this letter with attention.

In a community where it's common for people to attain sudden success and then snub old friends, a story of loyalty is always welcome... and here's one about Dorothy Lamour. A few years ago she was an elevator girl in a Chicago department store and her charm was a clerk. It was this clerk who encouraged Dorothy to try out for radio. The audition was successful and from there Dorothy began the march which led to fame and wealth. Today she is building her first home in Hollywood and, remembering her old friend who is still a clerk, Dorothy is sending all the way to Chicago for her linens and silverware. She was requested that credit for her purchases be given her former chum—who will reap a nice little nest egg from commissions on the sale.

'SUPER-SNOOPER' HERE AGAIN BUT FOR COURTESY THIS TIME!

The "Super Snooper" is here again. But this time the "snooping" will be to commend all Santa Ana and Orange county drivers for acts of courtesy and careful driving in the city.

This was the decision of the Santa Ana Traffic Safety commission in regular session yesterday at the city hall, following a motion by A. A. Motry and seconded by Dr. Roy S. Horton.

"Saw You, Thank You!" According to the plan outlined by Dr. Horton, cards will be printed that will carry wording to the effect that "John Citizen was seen at such-and-such street, carefully avoiding hitting an elderly lady, a school child, a stray dog, or another car."

The cards will be available at the Santa Ana city hall, from members of the commission, and from the secretaries of all service clubs. If the present plans are worked out, each member of the Santa Ana Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will be given cards to assist in giving acknowledgement to the careful drivers of the community.

Dr. Claude Buss, of the faculty at the University of Southern California, will speak on "How Business men and Tourists React in Other Countries" at the annual Father's Day meeting of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club tomorrow at the Masonic Temple.

Dr. Hiram M. Curry, chairman for the day, requests that members bring sons, fathers, or sons-in-law.

No, He Isn't!

Let it be understood right now that the fellow above is NOT the kidnaper of 10-year-old Charles Mattson. But innocent Leo Fredrick Ash—with black beard, hollow cheeks, and bashed nose—looks so much like the FBI sketch of the abductor that he was arrested nine times in various cities until the Washington state patrol gave him an identification card as protection against police.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Guest Artist Appears
On Closing Program
Of Ebell Year

Finals to the Ebell year and to yesterday's inaugural luncheon in the clubhouse, was one of the most charming musical programs yet presented before the society, when silver-voiced Virginia Card appeared in a song program, with Elizabeth Kline as her accompanist.

Choosing a costume recital, Miss Card appeared in frocks whose allure was in harmony with a beautifully crystalline voice and a captivating personality. Her voice was under perfect control, and had a lyric sweetness peculiarly adapted to her opening group of 18th century songs, "Il mio bel core" (Carcello); "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair" (Haydn); "La Girometta" (Sibella) and Mozart's "Alleluia." Her satin and lace Watteau frock with vivid green velvet pinnacles and her powdered wig were in the spirit of the era.

In the interval before the second group of modern and classical songs, Miss Kline played two Chopin compositions very brilliantly, the Prelude in B flat major, and the Revolutionary Etude in C minor. Robyn's concert waltz, "A Heart That's Free," Miss Card's aria, "Si mi chiamano Mimì" from Puccini's "La Bohème," one of her loveliest numbers, and three compositions by Ernest Wolff written especially for her, "A Rose," "Love's Fantasy" and "Tarantella," formed Miss Card's group. The artist was appealingly youthful and lovely in blue taffeta with a colonial bouquet. She was recalled and sang her favorite aria from Noel Coward's "Bitter Sweet."

Adeline Patti's farewell was motif for the final group, which featured the diva's favorite songs, and for which Miss Card was a new but enchanting personality in hoop-skirt costume of deep rose satin. Her songs were Arne's "The Lass With a Delicate Air," "The Little Damsel" by Novella; "The Shadow Song" from "Dinorah" (Meyerbeer) which she dedicated to her hostess society, and a succession of encores, each lovelier than the last. Among these, "Respect" was being sung, but her final one, "Home Sweet Home," was made doubly beautiful by an unexpected obligato from a mocking bird in the clubhouse patio.

Inaugural Luncheon Draws
Guests To Ebell Session

Double congratulations were extended yesterday to Mrs. W. S. Thomson, who not only brought to a conclusion a very successful year as president of Ebell society of Santa Ana Valley, but was called upon to renew her obligations when for the second time, she was installed in that important office.

This inaugural event occasioned a thoroughly enjoyable luncheon staged in the clubhouse peacock room as introduction to the final meeting of the year, with its accompanying program of unusual beauty. The society's recently organized catering section planned the luncheon served by Girls' Ebell members to the accompaniment of flower decorations, "Pansies, that's for thoughts," were used in long, narrow containers down the length of the tables. One long table at the head of the room was reserved for officers and special guests, who found places by means of names inscribed in gold on the pretty cards, by Mrs. S. W. Nau.

Guest Officers
Cordage clusters of white stephanotis were at the places indicated for Mrs. Thomson, her installing officer, Mrs. Fred Rowland, junior past Ebell president; Mrs. R. G. Miller of Huntington Beach, president of Orange county Federation of Women's clubs, and Mrs. E. E. Smith of Anaheim, district chairman of Bible literature and county chairman of club ethics.

Mrs. Miller brought greetings from the county federation and Mrs. Smith gave a pithy talk on club ethics as the luncheon program. Mrs. Robert Guild, Junior Ebell vice president, represented Mrs. Albert Harvey, retiring Ebell president; Miss Barbara Speed, retiring president, and Miss Barbara Tucker, new president of Girls' Ebell, also were seated among the officers.

In the peacock room was arranged a display of wood carving accomplished by the crafts class under tutelage of Mrs. Cordelia Wilson of Huntington Park, president of Southgate Woman's club. Mrs. Wilson spoke briefly on work of the group, and there was keen interest displayed in the many handsome pieces.

When the clubwomen sought the auditorium, it was to be greeted by their new officers, seated on the stage, all handsomely gowned in formal afternoon frocks, with the president, Mrs. Thomson, especially lovely in gray lace verging on mauve tones. There was a succession of reports of the club activities, most important perhaps being that of the treasurer, Miss Mabel McPadden, showing the excellent financial condition with which the year is closing.

Indicative of similar success in both Junior and Girls' Ebell societies, were the fine reports from Mrs. Guild and Miss Speed.

Official Family
Mrs. Rowland, in vivid blue chiffon, conducted the installation ceremonies for the new officers. Mrs. Thomson, president; Mesdames J. E. Paul, Roy Shafer and George Raymer, vice presidents; Arthur May, corresponding secretary; Harold Segerstrom, recording secretary; Miss Mabel McPadden, treasurer; Mesdames Earl Abbey, curator; Stanley Reinhaus, W. Bradford Hellis, Rowland P. Yeagie, Ellis Diehl and Hal McCullough, directors. Mrs. Hugh Shields, a vice president, and Mrs. W. D. Ranney, a director, were absent from the group but will fill their offices when the club resumes activities in the autumn.

In her short talk, Mrs. Thomson suggested that a second term was accorded Ebell presidents in order to give them another chance to make good. She spoke of the friendliness which characterized the past year's sessions, and asked that this be maintained as well as other objectives she has in mind. These are more promptness in arriving for club meetings, and better attendance at the program meetings on the second Monday of each month.

MRS. WILSON'S CLUB

Luncheon and cards in the home of Mrs. L. R. Wilson, 600 First street, Tustin, were shared Friday afternoon by bridge club members. Asters in various vivid hues provided decorations.

Mrs. B. J. Reynolds and Mrs. George Veeh held the two highest scores in contract. Others present were Mesdames Porter Luther, J. H. Pankey, J. A. Prescott, Glen Warner, Gilbert Martien and the hostess.

Sycamore Rebekahs

Electing officers at their meeting Saturday night in L.O.O.F. hall, Sycamore Rebekahs chose Mrs. L. E. Hamilton as successor to Mrs. Alfreda Olsen in the noble grand's post. Elective officers named with Mrs. Hamilton were Lillian Whitaker, vice grand; Bessie Stovall, recording secretary; Hazel Ryan, financial secretary, Theresa Dunning treasurer, and Elsie May Henry, trustee.

Installation will be held on July 9 and will be a closed session. Several members will be initiated at the next meeting, June 25. In addition to announcements, the program also included as entertainment features, clever readings by Miss Jeannette Bodman, and instrumental numbers by a group of four talented musicians. Reports were given of the success attending last Saturday's cooked food sale held at the Moore building. Mrs. Millie West and her committee had planned an enjoyable refreshment hour in the banquet room where special honors were paid birthday celebrants during the six months' regime of Mrs. Olsen. Special decorations at the tables represented the months from January to June.

Farewell Celebration
Combined
With Birthday Party

Celebration of Miss Rose Ann Griggs' fourteenth birthday was combined with a farewell party for Mrs. R. R. Russick Saturday night in the home of Miss Griggs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Griggs, 421 South Flower street.

Members of Girl Scout Troop No. 1 Blue Jay patrol, of which Mrs. Russick has been leader, were guests. They presented a crystal cake plate to Mrs. Russick, who will leave soon to make her home in Santa Barbara.

Miss Louise Haven and Miss Marilyn Munselle won prizes for their high and low scores in cooking. Birthday cake frosted in green was served with ice cream and punch. Colorful nutcracker appointments were made.

Mrs. Griggs and her daughter, Miss Lucille Griggs served. Other guests present were Rose Ann Griggs and Mrs. Russick; with the Misses Louise Haven, Peggy Ames, Ruane Neighbour, Jean McWiliams, Marilyn Munselle, Catherine Stockton, Dorothy Dennis; Mrs. Myrtle Stinson and Mrs. J. F. McWilliams.

Members of Blue Jay patrol spent the weekend in the Scout camp at Irvine.

Buffet Supper Honors
Retiring Educators
Of J. C. Faculty

Although aware that a few of the retired members of the junior college faculty were to be entertained at buffet supper as a sequel to Sunday afternoon baccalaureate services, L. L. Beaman, retiring faculty member, was completely surprised to discover that Mrs. Beaman had planned the hospitality for the entire faculty.

The party made a happy conclusion to the interests of the 4 o'clock services, when guests were received at the Beaman home, 910 French street. The value of "good neighbors" was given emphasis as well, for the George S. Smiths at 215 French street, suggested to Mrs. Beaman, that the supper guests might enjoy their garden.

So, accorded cordial greetings by Mr. and Mrs. Smith, the college folk chatted and wandered through one of the most delightful garden spots in the city, before being recalled to the Beaman home for the supper hour itself.

Mrs. Beaman, in planning the affair in compliment to her husband, extended special guest honors also to Edward M. Nealley, who like Mr. Beaman, is severing associations with the school. He has been a member of the faculty for the past 20 years. Mr. Beaman is retiring from active teaching after having served the college for 17 years. He came to this city to reside in 1917, and to this city, San Bernardino where he was principal for 11 years of San Bernardino high school.

Many friends sent flowers for the friendly party, and these lent charm to the setting. In the dining room where Mrs. Robert Northcross and Miss Lella Watson presided at the table from which the menu was served, flowers were especially lovely. Miss Dorothy Decker sent the cluster of daisies, roses, stocks and white sweet peas gracing the buffet, while on the prettily appointed table were the beautiful Talisman roses mingled with yellow stock and pompon dahlias, sent by Miss Lillian Dickson.

Small baskets of flowers graced linen spread tables arranged about the rooms where Shasta daisies and pompon dahlias provided floral background. Many of the faculty wives aided Mrs. Beaman in serving the delicious supper menu. Little was needed in the way of formal program, so pleasant was the friendliness of the evening. But there was one enjoyable interval when Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips gave a group of Dandelion poems, and another when Deane D. K. Hammond offered a tribute to the two retiring educators.

Mr. and Mrs. Nealley joined with Mr. and Mrs. Beaman in the receiving line. Frank A. Henderson, city superintendent of schools and Mrs. Henderson were included on the guest list. Dean and Mrs. D. K. Hammond, Messrs. and Mesdames Blanchard Beatty, J. Russell Bruff, A. J. Cook, J. J. Cottrell, Calvin C. Flint, Thomas H. Glenn, George E. Holmes, Harry P. Jackson, John McCoy, Harold Moomaw, Ernest Crozier Phillips, Byron E. Quiver, Alan A. Revell, Herbert O. Russell, Frederick Schroeder, H. A. Scott, John Tessenmann, Thomas E. Each guest wrote her favorite recipe for the bride-elect, who was showered with miscellaneous gifts as the evening drew to a close. Inter-Fraternity and
Sorority Council
Has Gala Beach Party

More than one hundred couples responded to plans of the Inter-Fraternity-Sorority council for the first big social event in council history, a gala beach party, staged Saturday evening in the cove beyond Corona Del Mar.

All the various groups composing this council were invited to take part, and to learn some of the ways in which the council will be of benefit to their individual units. Results were even beyond the expectations of those planning the pleasant affair.

Swimming and beach sports provided ample entertainment, and whetted appetites for the supper menu prepared and served by sorority pledges. Winners were toasted over the blazing coals of the big campfire for which fraternity pledges were made responsible.

The next meeting of the council will come in July and Phi Sigma fraternity has offered its club rooms for the evening event. Cresce Wells, representing the four company of Los Angeles, will be present with examples of fraternity and sorority insignia and pins, and the evening will be centered in discussion of this subject.

Sparks of Santa Ana, secretary of the clan. Members of the group trace their lineage to George Sparks, who was a soldier in the fourth battalion of a Pennsylvania regiment throughout the days of the Revolutionary war. The arrival of Mrs. Olive Spurgeon of Monrovia, with her two daughters and their families, came as a delightful surprise to the picnicers. Mrs. Spurgeon is the last of the pioneers of the Sparks and Spurgeon families of Vancouver, Wash., and is closely related to various members of the Sparks family.

Bridal Rehearsal Has
Pleasant Sequel of Buffet Supper

Rehearsing in preparation for next Sunday's wedding of Miss Pauline Cave and Leo Gibbons was held late Sunday afternoon in First Baptist church, where the rites are to take place. All the young people of the bridal party were in attendance, and were entertained later at a buffet supper in the home of Miss Cave's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Cave, 2107 North Rock street.

Varying tones of pink combined with white in the flower arrangement given the home as a whole, and especially the charmingly appointed table where the supper menu was served. There were long sprays of pink and white Canterbury bells and quantities of roses used, but the table, with its snowy tapers, was garlanded with coral bells and carnations in the same vivid hue, arranged in white pottery bowls matching the flanking candelabra.

The Rev. Harry Evan Owings, who will officiate at the rites, was present with Mrs. Owings, and all the young people of the wedding party, with the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Cave.

Miss Cave took the opportunity of presenting the daintiest of pouch compacts to her bridesmaids, while Mr. Gibbons had smart ties in readiness to give his attendants.

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Birthday Celebration
Precedes Father's Day

Since W. S. Lee's birthday anniversary is so near Father's day, a combined observance was held Sunday when relatives assembled at Irvine park to take part in a picnic dinner planned by his daughter, Mrs. Lyman Gittins.

Two large birthday cakes were included in the inviting menu served early in the afternoon, with guests grouped at one of the big picnic tables. There were gifts for Mr. Lee.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Lee, Mrs. Bernice Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Gittins and daughter Lorna, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lee and family, Miss Goldie Cook, Guy Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crane, Los Angeles; W. R. Lee and son Bertie, Pomona; Mr. and Mrs. Monica Lee, Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Sherman, Villa Park.

Round the Corner Club
Holds Gala Reunion
In Hewes Park

Living just "Round the Corner" from each other almost thirty years ago, that group of mothers of small sons and daughters who adopted the name of "Round the Corner club," held its first family reunion picnic in several years' time, with a gala outing Sunday at Hewes Park, guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. Eymann Huff.

The passing years which have served to cement more closely, the friendly bonds uniting the members, have also seen the addition of new sons and daughters by marriage, and many grandchildren, all of whom were bidden to share Sunday's happy gathering. Each family packed generous picnic baskets and joined Mr. and Mrs. Huff in the beautiful little park. Mrs. Huff had prepared great bowls of iced lemonade, and the famous registered Jersey cows of the ranch dairy herd, yielded rich foamy milk which was enjoyed to the utmost. It was a day of happy reminiscence, and of enjoying the various grandchildren, some of them still toddlers, others of elementary and high school ages. Some of the happy memories recalled were of the last previous "family meeting," now a decade in the past, when a turkey dinner was held in the home of Mrs. A. M. Gardner, 323 East Washington avenue, and of the "silver anniversary" a few years ago, also held with Mr. and Mrs. Huff.

While the club meets informally almost every month, there were several members present from a distance who had not attended for a year or so. Sharing the happy reunion with Mr. and Mrs. Huff were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Davis with their son, Keith Jr. and Camille; Mrs. A. M. Gardner with her son and daughter-in-law, the Harvey Gardners and their sons, Dick and Jack Gardner; and her daughter, Mrs. Hollis Knowlton and children, Donald and Margaret Jane; Mrs. Dama Smith, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sprague and son, Clarence Sprague; Mrs. Albert Hervey of Glendale with her daughters, Miss Josephine Hervey, Mrs. Browning Hervey Danek and little daughter Hartley; Mrs. Edward Jasper and daughter Joanne, now visiting in the Southland from Jamestown near San Francisco; Mrs. L. V. Vestal of Orange, with her daughter and sister, Miss Bernice Vestal and Mrs. Leona Freeman; Mrs. Ruby Hickox of Laguna Beach, and her daughter, Miss Ruth Hickox, and Mrs. E. E. Keech, who headed the list with the number of her "grands" present. For she was accompanied by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Keech of Long Beach, with their children, Virginia and Richard; her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Dana Keech of Glendale, and children, Joanne, Jeanne, Roger and Marian, and her daughter, Mrs. Charles C. Ray of Berkeley, and little son Danny. Dana Keech was absent because of a sudden business trip to Washington, D. C., where he went by air Saturday, and Lieutenant C. C. Ray because his teaching duties at the University took him on a cruise with his R.O.T.C. students.

FOR SORORITY GROUP

Entertained late the past weeks by Miss Myrna Brooks, Phi Omega sorority enjoyed the hospitality of her home at 310 Diamond street, Balboa Island.

Chief interest of the evening was the presentation of the chapter's wedding gift of a handsome blanket, to Miss Gertrude Vaughan, who on Saturday will be the bride of John Conlisk of Long Beach. Another pleasant feature was the dessert course served by the hostesses, who arranged card tables with bright colored pottery for the interval.

Present in addition to Miss Brooks and Miss Vaughan, were the Misses Ruth McBurney, Hazel Oliphant, Jean Upshall, Phyllis Heffe, Helen Fine, Annie Tucker, Mrs. Lester Boyle, Mrs. Ronald Vincent, Mrs. Charles H. White Jr. and Mrs. Byron Nott.

Mixing Bowl

BY ANN MEREDITH

Don't underestimate the importance of sterilization in your canning program. Fruit, vegetables and pickles spoil through one of these reasons:

Containers and rubber rings insufficiently sterilized. Containers with nicked edges, permitting air to seep into fruit.

Tops that are old and out of shape.

Rubber rings, often picked up at bargain sales, rings carried over so long that the rubber has deteriorated. In sterilizing fruit jars as much care should be used in the operation as is given the boiling of instruments in a surgery. First, wash jars and tops with brush and soap, rinse, and immerse in a deep kettle full of hot water. Bring the water to a rolling boil and continue boiling at this pace for 20 minutes. Be sure your hands are very clean when you handle the jars, tops and rubbers, and before putting the filled jars away, examine tops, seeing that they fit tightly and that there is no leakage.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Clam Beef Loaf

1 can minced clams with juice
2 cups dry bread crumbs
1 large onion, finely chopped with a handful of parsley
1 egg beaten with 2-3 cup milk
1-2 pounds ground beef

Salt and pepper.

Put all ingredients into a big mixing bowl, cut and stir with a fork, then mix and knead with your hands until the mass is pliable and spongy (which means perfect mixing). Pack the meat into a buttered loaf tin and bake 1-1 1/2 hours in a 325-350 degree oven. Serve the loaf with a creamed vegetable.

The bland meat loaf and creamed vegetable need the sharpness of the colorful best salad to complement them. Use canned diced beets. Add lemon juice to the beets and prepare a box of lime or lemon fruit gelatin. When the jelly has cooled, combine with the beets and a dash of horseradish and salt. Chill and serve in spoonfuls or moulds, on lettuce. Garnish with mustard-flavored mayonnaise.

Pineapple Custard Pie

2 eggs, whites beaten stiff.
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons flour and 1-2 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup sugar and 2 tablespoons butter
1-2 cup shredded coconut
2 tablespoons pineapple juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 slices pineapple, diced
1-2 cup powdered sugar, mixed with pinch of salt and cream of tartar
Baked pie shell.

Make a custard (in double boiler) of egg yolks, milk, butter, sugar. When thick, add butter and coconut, take off fire and stir in fruit juices. Spread the custard in the baked shell, cover with diced pineapple, sprinkled with a spoonful of powdered sugar. Beat egg whites stiff, using salt and cream of tartar along with sifted powdered sugar. Cover pie with meringue and brown lightly before setting the pie away to chill.

Trip to South America

When Hubert Nall Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Hubert Nall, 2139 North Flower street, left last night from San Pedro on the Katuragi Maru, he began an extended vacation which he will spend in Ecuador, S. A., with his U. S. C. friend, Fred Arteta.

Traveling together, the two young men had bon voyage wishes of a large group of friends who gathered at the harbor to bid them farewell. Hubert and his sister and parents, Miss Frances and Dr. and Mrs. Hubert Nall, were dinner guests last evening of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Daniger at Danigers.

Young Nall and his companion will spend a day in Cristobal. When their boat near Guayaquil, it will be met by Arteta's father in his yacht, and the travelers will go to the Arteta summer home at Guayaquil for a stay. From there they will go to the Arteta estate in Quito for the greater part of the summer.

The Santa Anan and Arteta will return to California in September to continue their studies at the university.

Two Pleasant Affairs
Given to Compliment
House-guests

Two pleasant social features were occasioned by the week-end visit in the Theo A. Winbigger home, 207 East Ninth street, of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Burke of Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Burke came down Saturday afternoon, and that evening their hosts assembled a little group of friends who long have shared evenings of contract play.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Sharpless and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lasby, who were invited to dine with the Winbiggers and their house-guests, and devote the evening to bridge. It all proved so enjoyable that the hospitality was continued Sunday when Mrs. Winbigger planned a garden breakfast.

The Winbigger garden is a particularly charming one, its big pecan tree—one of the largest in the county—and its sheltered court near the grill, offering seclusion as well as beauty. Mr. and Mrs. Burke returned Sunday night to their Los Angeles home.

You and Your Friends

Miss Amelia Wetherell of Cortage, Mo., who spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. D. P. McBurney, 702 East Second street, left yesterday morning for San Francisco to visit her sister.

The London telephone directory contains 171-4 pages bearing the name "Smith," commonest name in England.

Former School Friends
Enjoy Reunion With
Mrs. Sorensen

Former classmates at Tustin union high school were brought together Friday night for an informal event in honor of Mrs. Clarence Sorensen (Norma Tanti-linger) of Vancouver, B.C. Her sister, Mrs. John V. Newman, was hostess in her Lemon Heights home.

It had been so long since members of the group had been together, that the evening was given over to pleasant reminiscences. Mrs. Newman served an inviting refreshment course.

In the party with Mrs. Sorensen were Miss Rachel Jones, Miss Bonnie Kiser, Mrs. Paul Snow (Martha Hendricks), Miss Alice Borchard, Miss Marie LaBrucherie all of this vicinity; Mrs. Lewis Gowland (Ruth Weiss) of Los Angeles and Mrs. Merle Irwin (Margaret Milbrandt) of Orange.

Mrs. Sorensen and her little son, Keith are guests in the home of their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tantlinger, Newport road.

Get-together Occurs
At Park Picnic

High school graduating seniors who have been members of Mrs. John J. Vernon's Sunday school class at First Baptist church for the past two years were assembled for a picnic supper Thursday evening when Mrs. Vernon was hostess at Santiago park.

In the group were the Misses Ruth Lockett, Martha Jane Farwell, Beulah Carnes, Dorothy Dablow, Helen Ritner, Leona Marchant, Eloise Hull, Chelena McCurney, Paula Purvis, Evelyn Hull, Charlotte Wright; with the hostesses' three little daughters, Betty Louise, Mary and Peggy Vernon. The event came as a final get-together for many of the co-eds, since summer vacation plans and school activities in the fall will take members of the group to points near and far.

The Misses Borchard
Begin Summer Travels

Three months of travel are in store for the Misses Alice and Barbara Borchard, daughters of the Frank Borchards of Hobart street, following their departure Sunday night for Montreal, where on June 24, they will board the S. S. Duchess of Athol, Canadian Pacific liner, for Europe.

They plan an extensive tour of Scotland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Germany, with trips to be made into Austria and Czechoslovakia. Italy, France, Belgium, Holland and England will be included in the itinerary.

In Switzerland, the Santa Anans will visit with their cousin, Miss Jean Borchard of Los Angeles, who is studying in Europe. They expect to return home sometime in September.

OUR BELOVED DICTATOR
Elected
BY "UNANIMOUS CONSENT"

AMERICANS, trained in the ideals of free government, sometimes fail to understand the technique of dictatorship. Universal suffrage still exists in Russia and Germany, manhood suffrage continues in Italy and Japan. Elections are regularly held in all these countries and the government in each of them professes to rule by popular consent. But this consent is a hollow gesture, because the people have no alternative. No opposition to the government appears because newspapers are not free. The people, having no voice, nor means of publishing their own opinion, act as they are told to act and finish by thinking as they are told to think. The first requirement for a free government is that there be a free press. Your newspaper shares with you the privilege and the duty of perpetuating the institution of American liberty. Its responsibility is to speak to government as the voice of the people. Your responsibility is to see that newspapers shall always remain free. Support your newspaper—protect it—for its welfare is your welfare—and its freedom is your freedom.

Our Children

THE STUBBORN CHILD

"The teacher is going to leave Harold back this term, in kindergarten, because he will not speak. He has not said a word in class all term. He is bright. He has a good vocabulary, but he simply refuses to open his mouth before strangers or in school. We have punished him every way we know how. He promised to talk in school, but when the time came he would not speak. What is going to be done about it is more than I can see. And he is going to be left back in kindergarten while his companions are promoted."

This child is six years old. He is intelligent and he does his work well except for oral recitation. He has been punished continually because he does not recite. His mother thinks he is stubborn; that is she thinks he has set his will against hers and that of the teacher and will not talk.

That is not true. Fear prevents the child from talking. For some reason he was afraid to speak when he got to school. Some children are frightened to find themselves among so many other children and suddenly are surrounded by strangers. Other children are afraid to make a mistake, so they keep still. If anything is said or done to frighten the child still more he is strengthened in his desire to hide himself behind silence. Punishing such a child is about the worst thing that can be done.

From the beginning he must be encouraged to believe he is among friends. Say nothing at all about talking. Call on him; smile at him kindly; pass on. Assign a friendly, motherly little girl to look after his comfort. She will talk a lot to him, and pretty soon, if they are let alone, he will talk to her.

The teacher must go out of her way to make him feel friendly to her, and to get him to feel her friendliness toward himself. If she pats him on the shoulder as she passed him, stops at his seat and says a word of encouragement or praise relating to his work, he will soon be watching her face, waiting for her appearance, hanging on her every word. That means that he will soon be talking to her. And if now and then she bends down to his ear and whispers some happy little nothing to him, he will soon whisper back, and feel happy because of the close intimacy and friendship the exchange gives him. Talk soon follows that whisper.

It is best to avoid direct attack on this sort of silence. Wait for confidence; work for it. Say nothing about talking or not talking. Let the little girl helper win his confidence first. The teacher will soon succeed if she establishes friendly relationships. If she makes the mistake of centering on the silence it will grow stronger because the child learns that he is doing wrong and that he is being punished for that wrong-doing. That feeds his fear. Help him to forget his trouble and the fear dies.

EXPLAINS THE BUYING OF VOTES

If the readers are not in the habit of reading "You and Your Nation's Affairs," published daily in the Register and written by a group of college professors, they undoubtedly will be interested in reading the article in today's issue by Gus W. Dyer on "The Enemies of Democracy."

He explains as vividly as we have read any place how it is undemocratic to permit people who receive special material rewards from the government to be permitted to vote. He says that this acceptance invalidates their vote.

If you have been missing Professor Dyer's articles, you have been missing some sound reasoning. They are found each Tuesday on the editorial page of The Register.

SOMETHING FOR THE FILES

Donald Carroll, who shot pretty Charlotte Mathiesen dead, and then was acquitted of the crime, moves into obscurity, leaving his story in the yellowing files of newspaper libraries. The last paragraph of the last story in those files could serve as it stands as the final disturbing paragraph in a piece of tragic fiction. It deserves repeating:

"I realize now, Carroll said, 'that the trouble with most youngsters is that they think their parents know much less than they know. This is a mistake. Our parents know far more than we do—no matter what the problem is. A child should realize that his parents can help him, and he should confide in them. Gee, wish I'd done what I've told you the other kids should do!'"

There is nothing extraordinary about that. There is no art in the words. It all goes without saying. But it ought to be clipped out, anyway.

Boys won't clip it. Parents should. And mark it with Carroll's name, and put it away, and take it out and read it every once in a while.

BETTER HOUSING CONDITIONS

William S. Knudsen, who rose from a factory worker to president of General Motors, believes that the technical people of the country can do something to make better housing available for the working man.

"Everybody in industry is helping promote research to see if a house cannot be produced for less money," he said recently. "A man can pay six or seven hundred dollars for a motor car, but when he steps up to a house it will cost anywhere from three to six thousand dollars. I am sure that the technicians can do something to improve housing conditions for the working man. He certainly deserves it."

"Everybody realizes that the home is the bulwark of the family. No matter what kind of a home it is, it is something which is added to, year after year, and it produces the best citizens. It is an open secret that in some of our large cities there are tenements in existence which were created in 1870, and they still are offered as homes to families, giving no benefit whatever to the advance in the standard of living in the meantime. The quicker such places are made obsolete, the better."

"It is my experience that the majority of workmen strive for home, family and country, with no desire to be anything but co-operative in the betterment of these three things."

PRONE TO ACCIDENTS

In every neighborhood are found persons who are "getting burned." There are women who get their fingers caught in the wringers; men that get nails in their hands. There are others that let the water run over the top of the bathtub and leave the door of the refrigerator open when they go away for the week-end.

In an official Federal report that has just been prepared for Congress six reasons are named as major causes for highway accidents. "The accident-prone driver" is one of the subjects presented in a program for safety.

About 29 per cent of the motor vehicle accidents involve pedestrians; 53 per cent are collisions with other cars; 18 per cent involve other collisions, running off the roadway and so on.

"Cars can't do a thing except under human direction. . . . Certainly everything has been done that could be done to make motor cars operate as they should regardless of the driver's skill," is a truth found in the foreword to the booklet called "We Drivers," which has been distributed and read by millions of drivers in the last two years. Inasmuch as a very large per cent of all drivers never engage in serious accidents the statistics and conclusions all prove that there are too many drivers on the highway who are prone to accidents.

Uniform motor-vehicle traffic laws by the States are advocated so that drivers may know what new conditions they face when they cross state lines. The School Patrol has been so successful that many organizations of educators, automobile manufacturers and police and highway officials are favoring educational programs in the public schools. Those who have made thorough studies of safety on the highways believe that by beginning in the schools that it is perfectly reasonable to expect that accident-prone drivers might be educated to overcome their weaknesses before it comes their turn to take a place at the wheel.

News Behind the News

WASHINGTON, June 14.—It is getting so that nearly everything is attributed these days to Mr. C. C. Biddle, political bodyguard and strong arm legal counsel, Tommy "The Cork" Corcoran.

Latest magic to be attributed to his touch is Francis Biddle's choice by the Senate TVA investigating committee to be its director. Biddle is an alumnus of the same school, the late Justice Holmes' office. He once worked as law clerk for the liberal dean, foregathered with Corcoran and the others at those annual reunion dinners.

But if Corcoran did this job, he left no fingerprints. The official story is that Biddle was recommended by Curtis Bok and only one member of the investigating committee dissented.

Corcoran's name was not mentioned in the committee discussion and the committee members now think it was strictly their own idea, which may be another tribute to Corcoran's ventriloquism.

At any rate it is a contribution to the growing Corcoran legend, which is making him the new power behind the throne.

Another current example of his trackless technique is the debate on whether he was in Iowa for the Wearin primary campaign in which he was indisputably the guiding influence.

The charge came from the successful candidate Senator Gillette, who got his greatest response from his campaign audiences with the line: "I pledge that when I return to Washington I will not be a Charlie McCarthy for Tommy the Cork."

A passenger on a Washington to Chicago plane tipped Gillette headquarters off to the coming of the phantom counselor. The passenger got to chatting with "a likable young chap" in an adjoining seat who introduced himself as Corcoran, and who later caught the Des Moines plane out of Chicago.

But the Corcoran office here contended it must have been another Corcoran or the passenger was mistaken.

This is always the way with Tommy. He is the ghost of all ghosts in government and has never really been caught redhanded, except once several years ago in the Brewster Passamaquoddy affair in which he proved that it was not political blood on his hands, but just a little red ink.

Magazines have been trying for years to get the true picture of Corcoran. Their men have investigated him here for weeks at a time. The only result was a blurred conception of him, usually out of focus, which may have been accurate after all, as that is where he stays. He will not talk about himself; his friends have been cautioned not to.

The idea of it all is that if he comes out in the open as an official emissary of the White House he will either ruin his efficiency as an official fixer or be pushed down the long trail with Moley, Tugwell, Iron Pants Johnson, et al.

You can see him only in notes on government. Here are some which have seeped out through an impenetrable personal censorship as a Col. House ever got away with here.

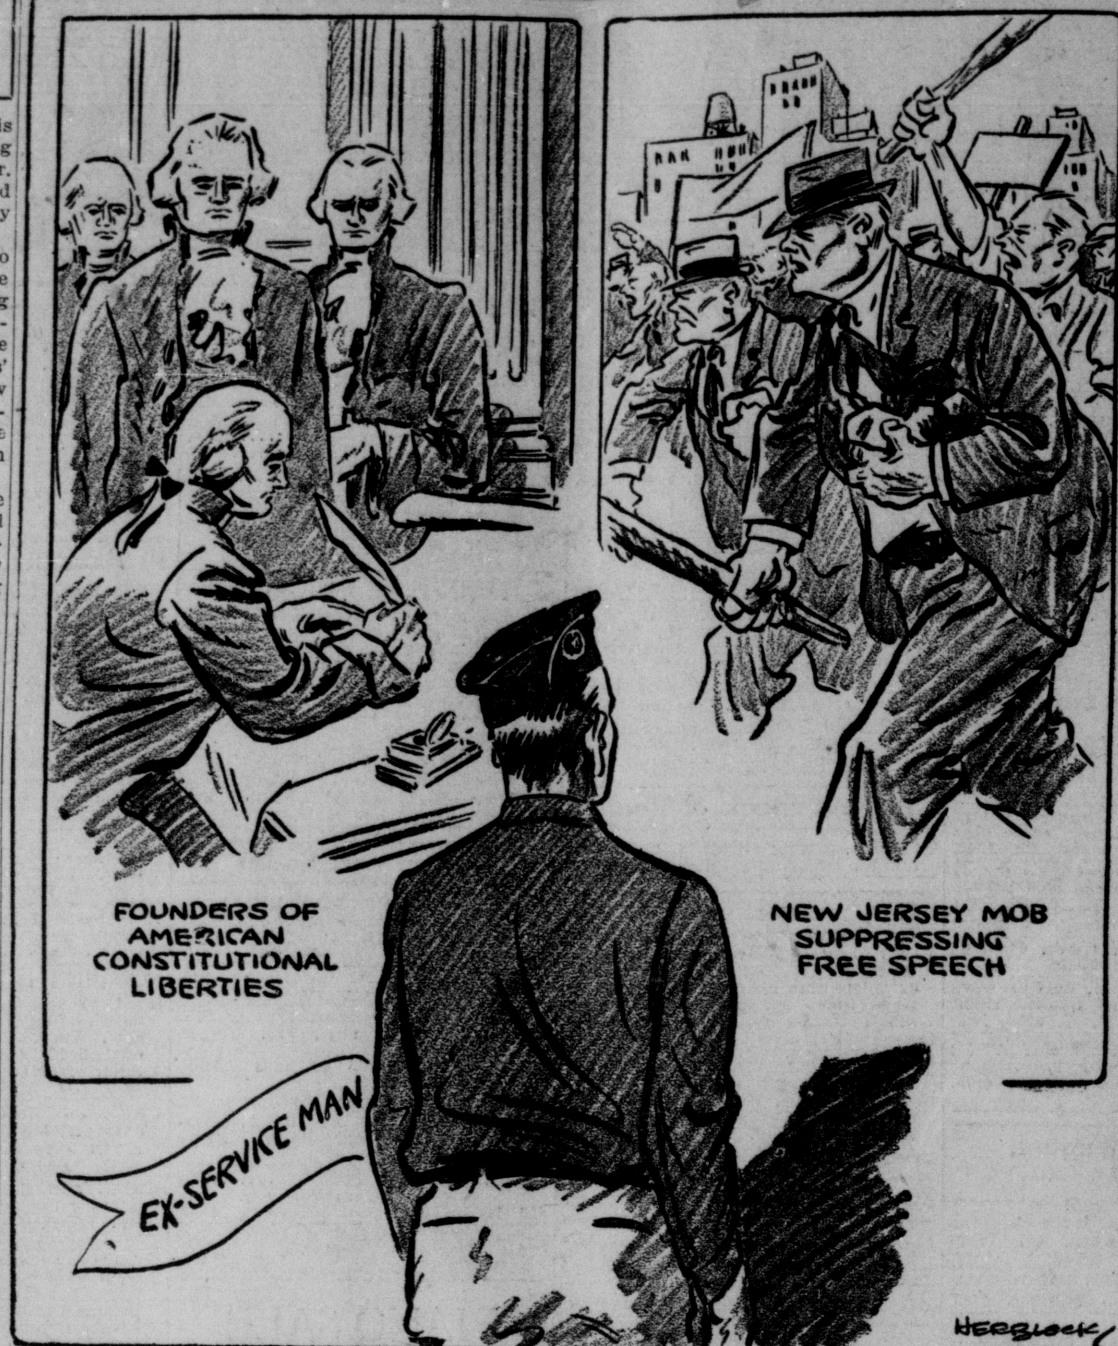

Corcoran's favorite expression in the inner council is: "Let's aim for the jugular." That's the theme of his political action. Justice Holmes is supposed to have coined the phrase. . . . Tommy is only 36 years old; official title "Special Counsel" to the RFC; salary $10,000 a year for a job he does not perform. It merely furnishes him a small corner office in the old commercial department with four large windows. He earns his pay, and undoubtedly more, at the White House. His real job is whether he takes a notion to do or whatever notions Mr. Roosevelt gives him. . . . He would have come out in the open as a confidential secretary if the reorganization bill had passed, but both his friends and enemies thought that would have ruined him. It is better for officials to deny any connection with him, or at least be in a position to do so. . . . Tommy did his best for the reorganization bill.

He used the telephone to contact house members and others. No longer does he appear on the hill in person as his presence is now considered a public advertisement of official lobbying. However, this time the congressman must have had no jugulars or else his aim was bad.

General "Iron Pants" Johnson has suggested Tommy's Iowa failure means it is time for him to leave. No one thinks he will go.

While Johnson's technique was to take all kicks in their proper place without groaning, Tommy's is to make himself invisible, leaving the kicks with nothing but a cloud to hoist their toes at. It's dangerous, but he thinks it's fun.

Roosevelt likes Tommy personally, as do other friends whose jugulars have not been aimed at. He has one of the smartest young legal minds in the country, and is one of the worst for politics. He is thoroughly honest and loyal and a gay-sarcastic kindred soul with Mr. R. He lives with Ben Cohen, his co-ghost of earlier legislative drafting days when congress would swallow their bills without a question (SEC law, holding companies, etc.) in a studio apartment on K street near the "little green house" of Harding days. They are bachelors, have a Negro maid who cooks breakfast and cleans up for them and others in the same block. Their means are moderate, very moderate by all available testimony.

Roosevelt's tag of "Tommy the Cork" is not generally considered one of Roosevelt's best, although it meant to be a reference to his bobbing spirit as well as his Irish ancestry. . . . his favorite breakfast food is New England salt mackerel which is a testimonial to his own salty character and his excellent health. . . . as every one should now know he never favors an overcoat with a velvet collar, has some minor trouble occasionally with his foot, then he waddles around on a silver handled cane. . . . His entrance at the White House is the messenger's basement door. News-men never see him coming and going. . . . His well known hobbies are playing the two grand pianos in his apartment and the accordion, his pet hate is Attorney General Cummings at the moment. He works feverishly, keeps himself going with five hours sleep and continuous black coffee, revives himself by sitting down at the piano and ripping off Brahms' most difficult composition. . . . Official gossip credits him with the Senator Minton shot at the newspapers which was handled so badly that even Minton hopes to forget about it. (Corcoran hates "the newspapers" as fervently as his boss.) Among the president's famous speeches attributed to him is the Roanoke Island address last summer about the "Lord McCauleys" of finance. This is another one in which the administration has not followed through. . . . It's a 10 to 1 bet that this unique maker of current history will furnish the weapons again when Mr. R. goes on the stump this summer again to "hit 'em in the jugular" . . .

Government is the means by which organized society realizes the end for which it exists. This end is the highest social good. Democracy was adopted as a form of government because it was believed that the wisdom of the many as a policy of government is superior to the wisdom of one man or the wisdom of the few.

The election is the means by which the qualified voters in a democracy express their convictions with reference to the policies that they believe are the best for realizing the end for which government exists, namely, the best general welfare.

Two things are absolutely essential to the exercise of legitimate suffrage in a democracy in the first place, the voter must be free from any sort of intimidation. A vote that is influenced by intimidation is not a real vote. Intimidation destroys suffrage, and hence destroys democracy.

In the second place, the legitimate voter in a democracy cannot give any place whatsoever to the consideration of special material reward to himself in casting his vote. Suffrage is in no sense an individual asset. Suffrage is a sacred social trust. The individual votes not as an individual, but as a trustee for the social order of which he is a part. When he permits a material reward for himself to determine his vote he betrays this trust and really invalidates his vote. Hence it is a crime to offer or accept a material reward as a consideration in casting a vote.

He who offers or accepts, directly or indirectly, a material reward for voting a certain way is an enemy of democracy and an "undesirable citizen." In addition to this, those who plan material rewards as a means of obtaining votes are destroyers of moral character in that they entice the weak to betray a sacred trust for the price of a mess of pottage.

To the extent that public funds are appropriated and distributed with a view of enticing those who receive these funds to vote a certain way, the act is a plain case of an attempt to corrupt and destroy the franchise, and hence destroy democracy. This really represents about the lowest type of bribery since the rewards offered are assessed against those who are injured by the policy.

No unfounded charges are here brought against any one, and no inferences should be drawn, except those that are based on incontrovertible facts.

The appropriations made by the Federal Government, largely for gifts to voters, for the past six years are interesting and suggestive:

	For Roosevelt	For London
1933	3 billions 800 millions
1934	2 " 374 "
1935	4 " 880 "
1936	1 billion 425 "
1937	2 billions 289 "
1938	4 " 672 "
Relief voters . . . . .	80%	20%
Voters who received loans from the Government. 73%		27%
Voters who received crop control gifts . . . . .	68%	32%
Voters who received no gifts from the government . . . . .	57%	43%

These figures suggest, at least, that millions of votes were cast in consideration of a material reward.

Those now on relief with their families can poll about 20 million votes. If we add the other large groups that are receiving special aid from the government to this "voting power" inspired by material rewards, a political condition is revealed that is alarming and intolerable. Such a condition is a gross perversion and distortion of democratic government, and cannot long continue in a country dominated by Anglo-Saxon ideals.

The policy of holding a majority by the distribution of the taxpayers' money as rewards destroys the election as a means of relief, however intolerable conditions may become. Then what?

constituency. A perfect society would serve its humblest citizen with proper regard for its rights as one of God's creatures entitled to its part of the welfare of all.

Like the speck of dirt in the automobile, or the slight interference of bodily functions, the disregard of any of God's creatures causes disaffections that lead to all the direful conditions now so prevalent throughout the world.

Politics is the machinery of governments that is always affected by the condition and operation of its parts which include every individual. For successful attainment of permanent satisfaction, no part can be neglected or deprived of any of its rights in the body politic. Ideal democracy gives equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

Present day democracy has so far deviated from the ideal as to yield more and more special privileges to the few who have arrogated to themselves increasing benefits that rightfully belong to all, considering man-made property rights above God-made human rights, bribing legislator to enact laws for their selfish purposes regardless of results to the masses.

This aggrandizement has grown till now our government is being led low with an economic disease rapidly becoming more and more unbearable.

All the ideas and plans suggested by the "powers that be" for correction and cure of our financial and economic difficulties are wrong because undue selfishness is

General Hugh S. JOHNSON SAYS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A suggestion to the Right Honorable Thomas Corcoran, alias Tommy the Cork.

Tommy, isn't it time for you to get the Hell out of here? It is a shame to say that to a man whose faults are too much loyalty, brilliance, ability and zeal. But it has happened over and over again in the world's history that precisely these qualities have made it best that a man should take a figurative eraser and rub himself out. "O Cromwell, Cromwell, had I but served my God with half the zeal I served my king. . . ." This is not to say that there has been lacking any service to God, but only that, like Cardinal Wolsey, lord chancellors in this administration—even if chancellors sub rosa—would do well to rub themselves out before they get rubbed. Whether or not their passion is for anonymity, the moment the spotlight bathes them to shadow the king, somehow they always get the air.

Furthermore, although your high purpose has been to serve the suffering, they can be served only by a strong and unified liberal party. However high may have been your hope to unify that party by purging it of all dissent, you are not unifying. You are splitting it from crown to crotch on the very threshold of its accomplishment.

Unity by purging dissent never yet has worked. Because He dissonated, Jesus was killed, not by the Jewish people, who adored him, but by a Roman executioner at the suggestion of the current palace braintrust. That distinction in responsibility has never done the persecuted Jews any good—in a millennium and a half of time. That purge of a fearless dissenter has become a symbol and a whole innocent race has borne the burden ever since. So it may be with the Democratic party.

The party you are splitting by persecuting opinion has, for its principal "pride," its devotion to freedom of opinion. Its founder said: "I have sworn upon the altar of God eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of man."

One of that party's leading exponents in New Jersey—Mayor Hague—is spectacularly demonstrating that, in that state at least, this pride and pretension is just a pious fraud. He does it by protesting expression of opinion. In the name of the Democratic party, you are doing the same thing by threatening dissenters with political death after opinion is expressed. If you tar your party with that stick, you split it and feed its enemies with an issue that could kill it.

It is the same with the misuse of the great humanitarian purpose of WPA to coerce the destitute, by the threat of pushing them back into starvation unless they vote as you wish. Articles by Tom Stokes of the Scripps-Howard newspapers support by affidavit the charge that this is being done wholesale in Kentucky. Mr. Hopkins' defense of his endorsement of Iowa's Wearin—that Wearin's defeat proves the effectiveness of Hopkins' orders forbidding a WPA coercion—must have made you laugh. It is refuted by Senator Barkley's defense of the right to coerce and by the news from Kentucky. What would have been proved if Wearin had won? And how about Harry's promptly endorsing Gillette?

This stuff won't go for long. Punishment of dissenters plus wide political misuse of relief funds are two revealed policies which alone are enough to raise the gorge of the American electorate, smirch the President's bright page in history and destroy the greatest American liberal coalition.

All this was done in the heat of advocacy, loyalty and zeal and for a high purpose, but ends do not justify the means and for the good of the Democratic party, the President and the world people—Tommy, why don't you get the Hell out of here?

their mainspring with disregard for the welfare of all others saturating their deliberations.

Governments are financed by taxing its inhabitants. "Vested interests" have controlled lawmakers, compelling them to enact laws protecting them against paying their just share of the cost of government operation. This unjust cost of affairs is becoming so overburdensome that the people are being aroused and more determined to find a better way, a just and equitable way that gives each human being its equal right to benefits intended for all.

A way is being promulgated that will not in any way harm anyone, rich or poor. Property rights will be protected and human rights will be safeguarded.

By this plan society will be restored to the enjoyment of satisfactory living conditions, happiness will displace misery, crime and war will lose their incentive.

This plan is the Townsend Plan. "The Townsend Plan Will Succeed."

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

FUNDAMENTALS OF AMERICAN DEMOCRACY

A contributor requests that someone in Orange county who knows tell us what are the fundamentals of American Democracy so anyone may know how they are related to government, religion, economics and diplomacy.

No one knows exactly what American democracy does mean. It is an evolving idea, constantly changing as man's understanding changes. It is because we, as a people, have digressed from the fundamental principles of practical democracy and Christianity, that we are now in the predicament we are.

Heart of Our Democracy

In response to the contributor's request, we are quoting from Thomas F. Woodlock, columnist in the Wall Street Journal, on the subject of the heart of democracy. We quote:

"The heart of OUR democracy is not in the machinery of government, not in the division of powers, not in voting machinery, not even in majority rule. It is in something vastly more important. It is in PERSONAL rights, MINORITY rights and in the limitation of the civil authority necessary to preserve those rights. That principle of limitation of the civil power was and is the great, the unique contribution that the fathers of this country made to human liberty. It is that principle which is today in danger greater than has ever threatened it in a century and a half. It is in danger because the motley crowd that is mobilizing—is indeed already largely mobilized—as a left front does not believe in that principle. The democracy which that front professes as its creed is a democracy of unlimited majority rule, and that can become, and does become, of all tyrannies the most tyrannical. It is the worst dictatorship that can exist."

Mr. Woodlock continues his article by saying that we never were in as much danger of losing minority rights as we are at present. He contends that the way to test whether a man understands the heart of democracy is to question him on his belief as to whether he favors the slightest tampering with the Court's powers or personnel. If he does, whether he knows it or not, whether it be his brain or his heart that is at fault, or whether it be his other notions to democracy in general, he has abandoned our American democracy.

Truly the personal rights of the minority are the heart of democracy. Democracy means equal rules for everybody, no class legislation, no special privileges. It does not mean that the voting majority has a right to take away the personal rights of the minority. That is what has happened, that is why we are rapidly lowering our standard of living and losing our self-respect.

10,000 DEPENDENTS A MONTH

The Los Angeles Times editorially is responsible for the statement that, "the Welfare Department records of Kern county show that on an average of 10,000 persons without opportunity for work are pouring into the county every month." It quotes the county health officer, Dr. Joe K. Smith, as saying that 2,000 additional non-resident indigents were added to the Kern County General Hospital in the last four weeks; that these indigents are taken care of by the Federal Farm Security Administration with headquarters at Bakersfield which gives these indigents grocery orders to all comers; that this organization supports them until they have been there long enough to get other aid.

Under the new law which makes all persons over 65 years of age, without property of over $6,000 in value, eligible for a $35 a month pension, California is becoming the mecca for people who expect to make this their home and be supported by others. This, together with the liberal relief, is attracting people from other states. In Kern county, it is reported that $78,000 required for relief 10 years ago has skyrocketed to $450,000 for the next fiscal year. This makes the relief more than 50 times higher than it was 10 years ago.

Every worker in California should realize that he helps support every man who is on a pension or gets a dole, whether he pays any direct taxes or not. The sooner the workers realize this, the sooner they will insist on people making every possible effort to support themselves. The relief problem is getting more serious every day and it eventually will mean chaos unless it is checked.

"PUT THE MONEY TO WORK"

A contributor who says he believes in the Townsend Plan, attempts to use an illustration to show that "there's got to be power back of production." He repeats time and time again that you put money to work. He does not seem to realize that money does not work. It does not create anything. So, money cannot be the power back of production.

He says: "You have to have money before you have a printing press. No money, no printing press."

You can have a printing press by trading some other wealth for the printing press. You need no money to get a printing press. All you need to get a printing press, or any other material thing, is to be in a position to later deliver some actual wealth. It is not money that furnishes the power, but it is the hope of an exchange of goods that will benefit both people participating in the exchange that creates labor that produces business.

Invariably the advocates of the Townsend Plan are confused on this subject which the contributor so often repeats—that money works. It never works. It is only labor—past and present—that produces.

EXCESS FOR EXCESS

What most people fail to realize is that business is the result of trading excess production of one man with an excess production of another. It is not trading for dollars, as most people seem to think, but it is, in reality, trading excesses.

And the man who has no excess, of course, has no purchasing power. Purchasing power comes only from producing an excess of something that other people want over the needs of the producer.
